THE CIRCLEVILLE HERALD

WEST GERMAN JOINUP — West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt (right), leader of the Social Democratic Party, meets in Bonn with Walter Scheel, leader of the Free Democratic Party, to try to work out a coalition aimed at ousting Chancellor Kurt-Georg Kiesinger. Brandt could be the first Social Democrat to head the government in 40 years.

New West German Coalition Will Put Brandt In Office

BONN, Germany (AP) — Only "loose strings" remain to be tied up before the Social Democrats and Free Democrats agree to form a coalition government in West Germany, a spokesman for the negotiating parties said today.

Another negotiator accused the Christian Democrats, whose 20-year domination of West German politics would be ended by such a coalition, of launching "a war of nerves" to prevent it.

The spokesman, Hein Kuehn of the Social Democrats' presidential campaign, said talks between his party and the Free Democrats today would deal with allocating prospective cabinet posts. The two parties plan to cut the number of portfolios from the present 19 to 15 or less.

Kuehn said the parties would submit their proposed government program to their parliamentary groups for approval Friday—12 days earlier than expected—and the new coalition might be announced that day.

After five hours of talks Wednesday, Kuehn told newsmen: "We have achieved a measure of agreement so good no one would have thought it possible when the talks began. We only have some loose strings to tie up and everything is perfect."

Willy Weyer, the Free Democratic interior minister of North Rhine Westphalia who participated in the talks, said the Christian Democrats were waging "a war of nerves" and predicted this would escalate in the next few days.

This was a reference to a news conference statement by Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger that his Christian Democratic party had made "broad policy proposals" to the Free Democrats and expected to talk with them after their negotiations with the Social Democrats.

Navy Plane Crash Kills 26 Aboard

ATSUGI, Japan (AP) — A two-engine U.S. Navy turboprop plane crashed into the Tonkin Gulf of Vietnam today, killing all 26 Navy men aboard, the Navy reported.

The Navy said the C2A Greyhound aircraft, used for deliveries to aircraft carriers, was flying from the naval air station at Cubi Point near Subic Bay in the Philippines to a carrier off Vietnam on a routine supply flight.

The carrier immediately sent out a rescue helicopter which found only wreckage. No bodies have been recovered, said a Navy spokesman at Atsugi Naval Air Station, Japan.

Names of the four-man crew and the 22 passengers were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

A board of officers has been convened to determine the cause of the crash, the spokesman said.

The plane was attached to Fleet Tactical Support Squadron 50.

Atomic Blast In Aleutians On Schedule

Test To Come Despite Protests, Quake Fears

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Despite a chorus of protests the countdown continued for the U.S. nuclear test today in the remote Aleutian.

On windswept Amchitka Island, 1,400 miles southwest of Anchorage, scientists and technicians readied monitoring devices and television cameras to record the one-megaton blast, equal to the detonation of one million tons of TNT.

Although some scientists feared the big blast might trigger an earthquake and tidal wave, "We are very optimistic of a safe and successful experiment," Robert Miller, operations manager for the Atomic Energy Commission, told newsmen Wednesday.

International objections to the test reached a climax with demonstrations along the U.S.-Canadian border involving more than 7,000 students in British Columbia alone. Six persons were arrested by police at the Ambassador Bridge between Windsor and Detroit.

The explosion was scheduled for 6 p.m. EDT.

The AEC said weather conditions appeared favorable for the observer planes set to fly over the desolate, 42-mile-long Aleutian Island 700 miles from the Soviet Union's Kamchatka Peninsula.

The nuclear device was buried 4,000 feet below the tundra in a shaft drilled in a solid volcanic rock. Twenty-eight miles away about 130 persons gathered in a concrete bunker to check the effects of the explosion.

One television camera was zeroed in on a known earth fault that cuts through the island. Another was focused on a pen of seven sea otters 4,500 feet from the blast site to record the effect on the animals.

Pens on the beach 14,000 feet away from the test contained more sea animals. Other observers were on the carrier USS Princeton, two destroyers and a number of research vessels.

Say Teddy To Disclose Death Facts

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., a close personal and political friend of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, said Wednesday that the Massachusetts Democrat is anxious to tell all he knows about the July 18 accident on Chappaquiddick Island, the Boston Record American reported.

"I think the matter has to be cleared up completely," Bayh told reporters from the newspaper's Washington bureau.

The story published today quoted Bayh as saying, "I think he'll do this. I think Ted wants to make available all the information."

Mary Jo Kopechne, 28, a Washington secretary, died when a car driven by Kennedy plunged off Dyke Bridge on the island.

The Indiana senator said the fatal accident hurt Kennedy politically but added that it was still "too early to tell" how badly.

"Some polls say he's completely through," Bayh said. "My judgment is that this is not completely true. He has a tremendous hold on young people—it amounts almost to worship—and young people are prone to forgive and forget."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has come under mounting pressure from his own party in the Senate, reportedly including the GOP's No. 2 leader, to pull back his nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth to the Supreme Court.

Congressional sources indicated that Senate Republican Whip Robert P. Griffin suggested to the President during his Tuesday meeting with GOP congressional leaders that Haynsworth's name come down.

A spokesman for Griffin declined Wednesday either to confirm or deny the report. The spokesman said Griffin considered any conversation he had with the President as strictly confidential.

Griffin spearheaded the successful fight last year against President Johnson's attempt to appoint Abe Fortas chief justice.

There was no doubt other Senate Republicans were anxious to see the appointment of Haynsworth, now chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals, withdrawn.

Earthquakes Injure 24 In Northern California

Vietnam Losses Reach 2-Year Low

SAIGON (AP) — The lowest weekly combat toll among Americans in two years was announced today by the U.S. Command, reflecting a three-week lull on the battlefield.

An official summary said 95 Americans were killed in action during the seven-day period ending at midnight last Saturday—a drop from 135 the previous week and the lowest weekly toll since the week ending Aug. 12, 1967, when 82 Americans died.

While the American death toll decreased, South Vietnamese troop casualties rose from 297 to 308 last week. Since the week ending May 10, South Vietnamese casualties have been consistently higher than American combat deaths, which many officials say is a result of "Vietnamizing" the war.

The number of Americans wounded last week also went up to 1,315 from 1,114 the previous week, and South Vietnamese wounded from 883 to 896. The number of enemy killed declined to 2,382 from a revised total of 2,696 the previous week.

The U.S. Command said 38,823 Americans have been killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961, with 556,629 enemy claimed killed in the same period.

Last week's low casualty count was coupled with U.S. intelligence reports that elements of four North Vietnamese divisions in the area around Saigon had pulled back along the Cambodian border farther than at any time since early 1968.

But a spokesman for the U.S. Command said he saw no immediate political significance in the latest developments.

"They are posing a threat to the outlying areas," he said, "but they are not posing as great a threat to Saigon. Everything he (the enemy) says indicates he plans a continuation of campaigns punctuated by high points, along the lines of protracted combat."

"What we anticipate is a low level of activity punctuated by high points. We anticipate he will not jump off any large scale offensive in the near future. He has not taken the position yet of a sustained type offensive."

Despite the low level of enemy activity, the U.S. Command spokesman said American B52 bombers are keeping up their heavy raids along the border north of Saigon.

"In the areas the B52s are hitting," he said, "the enemy is carrying on actions preparatory to jumping off on a campaign. He is moving in supplies, building his forces, gathering his forces. He doesn't gather his forces unless he is planning something."

"The fact that he doesn't move out is not that he doesn't want to. We are deterring him."

B52s also flew raids along the demilitarized zone to fill the gap left by departing U.S. troops. Some field commanders claim each Stratofortress is worth a battalion of infantrymen.

GOP Bid For Viet Backing Doesn't Silence Policy Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican bid for a moratorium on Vietnam policy dissent in Congress has stirred new argument about President Nixon's course—but GOP leaders still insist there should be a letup in criticism.

"It's just a question of making a case for the importance of supporting the President, particularly at this time," said Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, the Republican whip, pointing to the change of government in North Vietnam.

Senate Democrats have rejected such pleas, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota planned to speak out today in support of student plans for campus war protests Oct. 15.

While Democrats and Republicans are locked in bitter debate in the Senate, the issue also is simmering in the House.

Five House Republicans said today they would go ahead with plans to seek a Dec. 30, 1970, expiration date for the Gulf of Tonkin resolution that authorized military intervention in Vietnam.

Reps. Donald W. Riegle of Michigan, Pete McCloskey of California, Gilbert Gude of Maryland, Charles A. Mosher of Ohio and Daniel Burton of New York sent out a letter bidding for support from other House members. They denied their proposal undercut President Nixon's policy on Vietnam.

Senate debate on Vietnam flared in the wake of a proposal by Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-

N.Y., for a Dec. 1, 1970, deadline on U.S. withdrawal. Republican leaders responded by calling for a moratorium on such proposals and dissent.

But war critics, particularly Democrats who parted company with former President Lyndon B. Johnson over Vietnam, weren't swayed by the GOP leaders—and this resulted in a bitter debate Wednesday.

Senior Citizens Stage March For Miami Beach Housing

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Sign-waving senior citizens marched on City Hall Wednesday and put a few new wrinkles in the art of protest.

Instead of paddy wagons, they had ambulances trailing them. In place of beads, beards and bell bottoms, there were bonnets and baggy business suits.

And if a police officer moved into their ranks, it was only to assist one of the wobbly ones.

With the exceptions of a flare up where blue-veined fists flew briefly and a single case of heat exhaustion, the protest went off without a hitch.

Led by four activists in wheelchairs, the protesters straggled along seven blocks, then held what they called a stand-in on the City Hall lawn.

The submonet set confronted Mayor Jay Derner and the City Council demanding more low cost public housing on this stretch of sand that has become a playground for the rich.

Toting signs hand-lettered with "Senior Power Vote" and waving a large American flag, the crowd of about 350 watched an attorney for the National Council of Senior Citizens present a petition to Derner and the council.

The petition demanded the city redouble efforts to secure 474 units of public housing.

One umbrella-carrying white-haired woman, apologizing for the turnout, said, "We would have had lots more here, but the rain last night kept the crowd small because it kicked up a lot of peoples' arthritis."

Ohio Accidents Claim 3 Lives During Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An Ashtabula man whose car rolled over in a ditch was the first traffic fatality reported in Ohio today.

The traffic deaths: ASHTABULA — Cecil L. Easterday, 42, of Ashtabula, was killed early Thursday when his automobile left Austintown Road in Austintown Township and rolled over in a ditch.

TROY — Daniel Bradbee, 23, of Huber Heights, was killed Wednesday when his motorcycle ran off a rural road southeast of Tipp City and crashed into a tree.

GREENVILLE — Glen Rhodes, 54, of Frostproof, Fla., was killed Wednesday night when his automobile struck a bridge abutment along a Darke County road north of Greenville.

Maj. George Fletcher of the Royal Engineers said: "A whisper could have triggered it. I rank this as one of the nastiest (jobs) I have ever done. The fuse had a booby trap in it."

The mine, packed with 1,800 pounds of explosives, was unearthed Wednesday by a mechanical digger on a building site in Kentish Town district. Two hundred families in the vicinity were evacuated and spent the night in a school hall.

Trains stopped running near the mine to avoid vibrations that could have set it off, and 20 ambulances and a fleet of fire engines stood by.

An army spokesman said the sea mine, made to explode on contact with water, probably had been aimed at London's docks but was off target by several miles.

Hoover Not To Retire Soon

FBI Director 75 On Jan. 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House sources say FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, dinner party host to President Nixon Wednesday night, has given no indication he will retire on his 75th birthday Jan. 1.

They say they know nothing to support renewed widespread speculation Hoover was contemplating stepping down in the near future.

The possibility of Hoover's retirement has cropped up from time to time ever since 1965 when former President Lyndon B. Johnson waived the mandatory federal retirement age of 70 for the FBI director. President Nixon continued the waiver.

During the recent controversy over who authorized an FBI wiretap of the late Dr. Martin Luther King's telephone in the early 1960's, former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark suggested Hoover's usefulness had come to an end.

"I think, perhaps, the time has come when he should retire, both in the interests of his own career, which has been distinguished and in the interests of the FBI, which has been a great investigative agency," Clark said.

In an interview with the Associated Press last May, however, Hoover said he has no intention of retiring.

"As long as God grants me the health and the stamina to continue I have no ambition other than to remain in my post as director of the FBI," Hoover said.

The short, bulldog-faced Hoover has headed the FBI since President Calvin Coolidge named him to the post in 1924.

Old Mine Is Defused

LONDON (AP) — Army engineers defused a World War II sea mine today 20 hours after its discovery caused the evacuation of 500 persons from north-west London and halted subways in the vicinity.

Maj. George Fletcher of the Royal Engineers said: "A whisper could have triggered it. I rank this as one of the nastiest (jobs) I have ever done. The fuse had a booby trap in it."

The mine, packed with 1,800 pounds of explosives, was unearthed Wednesday by a mechanical digger on a building site in Kentish Town district. Two hundred families in the vicinity were evacuated and spent the night in a school hall.

Trains stopped running near the mine to avoid vibrations that could have set it off, and 20 ambulances and a fleet of fire engines stood by.

An army spokesman said the sea mine, made to explode on contact with water, probably had been aimed at London's docks but was off target by several miles.

Damage Heavy In Santa Rosa; Mains Broken

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — The strongest Northern California earthquakes in 12 years ruined two houses in Santa Rosa Wednesday night, knocked out electrical power, broke gas and water mains and injured at least 24 persons.

No fatalities were reported. The tremors centered at Santa Rosa, 60 miles north of San Francisco, but were felt as far south as Gilroy, 75 miles south of San Francisco.

A 20-foot wide section of brick wall fell from the third story of the Miramar Bar to the street, heavily damaging a parked automobile.

Pacific Gas & Electric Co. said electrical power was off for eight minutes in the city of nearly 50,000 residents. The utility called in emergency crews and had 50 men shutting off leaking gas mains. One small fire was extinguished before there was serious damage.

Water from broken pipes caused damage in one department store.

Injured persons were taken to three hospitals in the Santa Rosa area. Most suffered cuts.

Lawyer Quits In Federal Rights Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The forced resignation of a dissident Justice Department lawyer has added fuel to controversy swirling around the Nixon administration's civil rights policies.

Gary J. Greenberg, 27, senior trial attorney in the civil rights division's appeals and research section, stepped down Wednesday after leading 65 of 74 staff lawyers in a public protest against the government's school desegregation stand.

Greenberg resigned at the request of Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard, his division chief, who claimed only Monday there would be no retractions against attorneys who disagreed with him.

Even as Greenberg began vacating his office, Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, suggested Leonard himself should step down. The possibility also was raised that other unhappy department lawyers might quit in protest over Greenberg's resignation.

Young accused Leonard of having a "cynical, callous attitude toward civil rights problems" because of the Justice official's declaration that "nothing would change" if the Supreme Court orders "instant integration."

Leonard made the statement at a news conference at which he insisted the administration's desegregation decisions were sound despite the lawyers' charge that the department was violating "clearly define legal mandates."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has granted a year-long reprieve to draftable graduate students, faced with possible induction at the end of the fall semester.

Following a recommendation of the National Security Council, the White House had told the Selective Service System to keep hands off graduate students until the end of the academic year.

About 10,000 draft-age graduate students will be affected by the policy change, presidential press secretary Ron Ziegler said. He stated flatly the new policy will be followed, although the change came in the form of a recommendation rather than a decree.

Crime Probe Unit To Be Part Of BCI

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Establishment of an organized crime investigation unit within the framework of the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London was announced today by Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown.

"The outward presence of organized crime is found in gambling and prostitution, which foster the growth of loan sharking, bribery, arson, robbery and murder," Brown said. "But the more insidious elements are evidenced in the diversion of huge and untaxed profits to contaminate legitimate businesses through bribery and savage coercion. Unlike ordinary crime, the victims themselves may be so involved that they dare not complain to police."

"To act effectively, local law enforcement needs intelligence and investigative assistance at the state level to insure inter-county and inter-state cooperation."

Recently Brown was named chairman of a seven-member Organized Crime Prevention Council by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Brown noted that the Ohio Crime Commission had pinpointed the problem by recommending that the state assume an active role in coordinating efforts of local police, and obtaining cooperation with federal and other state authorities.

He said the new unit at the London bureau will specialize in intelligence gathering as an aid to local police. In assigning the unit to the bureau Brown said he was following recommendations by the Buckeye State Sheriffs Association and the Ohio Police Chiefs Association.

Tingler Jury Selection Stalled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Richard Lee Tingler Jr. murder trial, in its ninth day today, still was bogged down with selection of jurors.

One alternate juror was seated Wednesday, leaving one more alternate remaining to be selected.

Tingler, 28, is charged with slaying two teen-agers during the robbery of a South Side dairy store last Oct. 20.

Urge Newspapers To Hire Blacks
HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The nation's newspapers should hire more Negroes and publish fuller and fairer accounts of Negro activities, says a report to the Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

"Despite an impressive upsurge of effort, there are still far, far too few Negro employees on editorial staffs of American newspapers," the Black News Committee of APME said in its annual report Wednesday.

'Dear Friends' Reviewed At Wednesday Rehearsal

By JEANNE BACH

With "Dear Friends" like these, who needs enemies? This play chosen by the Roundtown Players for their fall production will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday night at the Junior High auditorium.

It involves Michael and Lois Graves, who are separated and on the verge of divorce. Three couples who are their friends, decide to force them into a reconciliation.

In the process, the lives of all the couples are ripped to shreds and the skeletons in each marital closet come marching out to the tune of harsh words and unvarnished truths.

How do four such neurotic couples manage to assemble all in one place? Of course, it is the author's method of showing the various types and his attempt to say that a "perfect marriage" does not exist.

Diane Berger and Jim Stallings play the Graves. Mrs. Berger is a beautiful woman and she and Mr. Stallings handle the parts with true sensitivity.

Jane Resler and George Ganley are Charlotte and Lenny Marshall. They play the sophisticated and shallow couple extremely well. They are birds of a feather.

George and Vivian Spears are portrayed by Tom Matesky and Marsha Moore. They turn in their usual good performances as the couple intent upon remaining the "young swingers" even after 21 years of marriage.

Douglas and Sally Lambert are ably handled by Nelson Embrey and Peggy Stallings. Sally is starving for affection and Douglas cannot even manage a spark of jealousy. And after all, while too much jealousy is a burden, none at all is an insult.

Becky Sowers plays the Lamberts' daughter and Charles Resler the bellboy.

The conclusion is that if you stir sweet milk long enough, you eventually get buttermilk and when the author titled his work "Dear Friends," he definitely did it with tongue in cheek.

Set decoration was very good and staging for the flash back scenes is most inventive.

Director Angelo Dragonette is assisted by Marilyn Ganley. Mr. Dragonette is a member of Players Club of Columbus and has spent 15 years in Community theatre. He has participated in 55 plays as an actor or director.

Some May Be Unaware Of SS Benefits

A person does not have to retire completely to be eligible for Social Security benefits. Reminded Robert M. Martin, district manager of the Chillicothe Social Security Office.

Some area residents who could be eligible for monthly cash payments are losing benefits because they are not aware that they can work and possibly draw some Social Security checks also.

Under the present law, Mr. Martin explained, a beneficiary is allowed to earn up to $1,680 in a year and still draw all of his Social Security checks. If the beneficiary earns over $1,680 in the year, some of his benefits will be withheld, but not necessarily all.

The general rule is that one dollar in benefits will be withheld for every two dollars the beneficiary earns over $1,680, up to $2,880. One dollar in benefits will be withheld for each dollar earned over $2,880.

However, the beneficiary is entitled to his monthly checks for any months in which he does not earn more than $140 as an employee, or perform substantial work as a self-employed person, regardless of his total his earnings.

Once a person reaches age 72, he is entitled to his Social Security checks regardless of his earnings.

Martin stressed that any beneficiary who expects to earn over $1,680 this year should get in touch with the Social Security office located at 606 Central Center in Chillicothe, to find out how their benefits will be affected. The office is open from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Monday through Friday, and until 7:00 p.m. on Thursdays for those people unable to come in during regular hours. The phone number is 775-4950.

William Chaney Vance (left) manager of the local Columbus Production Credit Assn., was the featured speaker at Sertoma Club's noon meeting Wednesday at the L-K Restaurant. Vance showed slides of his six-nation tour of Europe. He is shown with Wayne Hatfield, program chairman for yesterday's meeting.

Damage Heavy

caused by broken glass, although there was one report of a broken neck.

One house was jolted four feet off its foundations and another was so badly rocked that it probably will have to be demolished.

Seismologists at the University of California in Berkeley said the first quake was at 9:56 p.m. and the second at 11:19 p.m. and that both registered at between 5.5 and 5.6 on the Richter scale.

The Richter scale is logarithmic, each higher number representing 31 times the energy of the preceding number.

In 1906, the San Francisco earthquake registered at 8.25.

Police, California highway patrol officers and Sonoma County sheriff's deputies sealed off a 15-square block area in downtown Santa Rosa to stop an outburst of looting through broken windows in a number of stores.

Jake Horner, Civilian Defense chief, told of seeing three 50-foot-high metal flag poles, which were 10 feet apart, whipping so strongly they hit each other.

"They were really clanging," he recalled.

Landing Strip Expansion

Fayette County Commissioners disclosed plans Wednesday for an extensive improvement program at Fayette County Airport.

Included in the already approved plans is extension of the present ramp, construction of taxiways at both the north and south ends of the extended ramp to the 4,000 feet takeoff-landing strip, construction of new auto parking areas, resurfacing the main runway, additional driveways and construction of a steel maintenance hangar.

Cost of the expansion, estimated at $42,000 will be defrayed from the county's share of airport funds provided in the Ohio capital improvements bond issue approved by voters last November.

The growing amount of traffic at Fayette's county airport prompted the Board of Commissioners to ask that the work be started this fall although funds will not be reimbursed until next spring when they are scheduled to be released, according to the Ohio Department of Aviation.

Clerk Issues Monthly Report

The September report of the Common Pleas court was released today by Sara M. Dresbach, Clerk of Courts.

Cases pending as of Sept. 1 totaled 242. 49 cases were filed during the month; 17 concerning domestic relations, 19 criminal cases and 13 civil cases.

Twelve civil cases were disposed of in September, with 20 criminal and 24 involving domestic relations. 235 cases remained on the records at the end of the month.

Twenty-two cases came before the court, 8 concerning domestic relations, 6 civil cases and 8 criminal cases. Cognovit and default judgments disposed of two cases.

Cases settled or dismissed out of court included 16 for domestic relations, four civil and 12 criminal cases.

No new cases were filed in the court of appeals during the month and one was disposed of. Four cases were pending as of Sept. 30.

CLEAN-UP OR SERVE TIME — Judge Sterling Lamb of the Circleville Municipal Court has adopted a tough policy toward persons found guilty of littering. They must clean up the litter or serve time in the county jail in addition to a stiff fine. Two Franklin County women are shown loading trash dumped recently by one of them on the Harrisburg-Fairfield Road.

Sheriff, Judge Clamp Down On County's 'Litterbugs'

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department and Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb have adopted a "get tough policy" for persons found guilty of littering.

A rash of recent incidents throughout the county in which loads of trash were dumped along the less traveled roads has prompted the policy.

Two persons have been issued the clean-up orders by Judge Lamb.

Cited into Municipal Court by Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson were Linda Atwell and Don Garvin, both of Franklin County.

Since July 1, all solid waste must be disposed of at a properly operated and licensed landfill.

'Dolls' Film Set 3 Days At Cliftona

"Valley of the Dolls" opens Thursday for a limited three-day engagement at the Cliftona Theater.

Coupled with Charlton Heston and an all-star cast, the co-feature will be "Planet of the Apes." Both films will be shown once each evening.

"Valley of the Dolls" is based on the explosive novel by Jacqueline Susann which stayed at the top of the best selling list for over a year.

Barbara Parkins, star of TV's "Peyton Place," is co-starred with Patty Duke, Susan Hayward, Paul Burke and Martin Milner.

Sharon Tate, who was brutally murdered in her California home a couple of months ago, is also seen in a co-star role.

Essentially, the story focuses on four women caught up in the heady world of show business and follows their lives as the tensions and disappointments increase, and some of them turn to pills and stimulants for "escape."

"Planet of the Apes" is one of the most unusual films of the decade. In addition to Heston, other stars include Roddy McDowell, Maurice Evans and Kim Hunter.

Patrons are advised to call the theater for feature times.

Orient Area Youth Hit By Automobile

James Hall, 14, Route 1, Orient, was struck by a car at 8:10 a.m. today while he was riding his bicycle to school.

The accident occurred on Dennis-McCord Road near Commercial Point.

Hall was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital for treatment of injuries by the Commercial Point Emergency Squad.

Hall told Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson he was struck from the rear by a "purple station wagon." The vehicle did not stop.

The youth could offer no further identification of the vehicle.

Stars And Bars On The Way Out

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Police officers in Tuscaloosa have been instructed to replace the Confederate flag on their uniform sleeves with an American flag.

In issuing the directive Wednesday, Chief W. M. Marable said there is "all too often a tendency toward being timid or apologetic about waving the Stars and Stripes. Police should never be."

Each uniformed officer was issued a 2-by-3-inch flag to sew on his sleeve.

YMCA Hires 3 Part Time Directors

Three part-time Youth Program directors have been hired by the YMCA, according to an announcement by Harold Hewitt.

Program responsibilities for the three new staff members will begin in October. According to the director, Mrs. Joy Rae will conduct two youth baton classes and two informal education classes; one in public speaking; the other in women's team sports and jogging. These informal education classes, he said will start the week of Oct. 20.

He also announced that David McCullough has been hired to direct the 10 Gra-Y clubs operating in six Circleville and four county elementary schools. Hewitt reported that the new Gra-Y adviser is married and a Senior at the Circleville Bible College. In addition to his duties with Gra-Y, McCullough will work as an evening desk attendant at the local YMCA.

Also included in the "Y's" new part-time staff is Mrs. Diane McDaniels, who will conduct Saturday craft classes at the family YMCA. Classes, Hewitt said, will begin this coming Saturday and are open to boys and girls 6 to 12 years of age. Youth or Family memberships, or guests of members will be required.

In addition to the three new part-time employees, the Y staff includes Dannie Young, a Circleville Bible College student, who is in charge of the weight room and is an afternoon desk attendant. Mr. William Thomas, also a part-time employee, coordinates the local Y's Industrial Basketball League and men's athletic activities.

Skywriter Makes Little Money, But Has Fun

By ROY MALONE
Associated Press Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — When the weather is right and there's a job to be done, Maurice "Red Baron" Pierce puts on his old cloth helmet, flying goggles, black leather jacket and pack-back parachute.

Pierce climbs into the open cockpit, and guns his 1942 Stearman biplane to 8,000 feet.

He's one of the few practicing skywriters left in the country. For 20 years he has been St. Louis' only sky artist.

"But you can't make a living at it," said Pierce. "I do it because it's great fun."

Part of the fun is slipping along in the rugged old silver plane, the kind he used as a Navy pilot instructor during World War II.

Pierce works full time for a firm that sells and services sophisticated business planes. But flying them is "boring" compared to the Stearman, which has no radio and an instrument panel simpler than an auto's. His hand is the windshield wiper.

The front seat contains a 40-gallon tank for the light oil that he converts to white smoke when he releases it through a hot exhaust pipe of the radial engine.

Part of the artist's work is carefully charting maneuvers before going aloft.

Right angle turns are tough on the pilot. Pierce said he used to black out briefly while making the turn on a seven. Now, at 56, he rounds it out a little.

When he reaches 120 m.p.h. he lets the vapor out while counting to himself. "The object is to get it up fast so it hangs together. I like to look back and see them laying like ropes."

A seven-letter word is about a mile high, six miles long and can be read over a 150-mile area. Pierce has written the names of beers, soft drinks, ice creams, autos, radio stations, political candidates, vote yes, vote no, and countless other messages. He can't remember ever misspelling a word.

But the important thing about the messages is not how well they look or how long they last, Pierce said.

"It's the curiosity of watching the letters formed. There's not one person in 10 who can walk away from it. They want to see how the last part of the word is formed. It's fascinating."

Skywriting is said to have originated in England in 1922 when Maj. John Clifton Savage spelled out "London Daily Mail" over the Epsom Downs race course.

On Oct. 22 of that year the first sky message was written over New York City. It said: "Hello U.S.A. Call Vanderbilt 7200." The advertiser reported that calls swamped his switchboard for five hours.

Pierce said skywriting became more popular after World War II. His scrapbook tells of one soft drink firm that in 1946 had 18,000 messages put up over 5,000 communities in the 48 states and of a cigarette company that paid $1,000 per message.

Will television commercials finally kill skywriting?

Pierce says no.

"Someday a fellow will say—'Hey, let's write it in the sky'—and it will come back strong."

Administrative Review

Yale University President Kingman Brewster has made a proposal for his institution which more schools should consider: that he and all other administrative officers should be given "impermanent administrative appointments" subject to review by the trustees at specified intervals.

The idea is to enable the trustees to judge the competency of their chief administrative officers in a manner which would provide for orderly dismissal if such was deemed in the best interests of the university.

"I think Yale would be better off if it were understood that the trustees would make a systematic reappraisal and explicit consideration of the president's appointment at some specified interval," he said.

Administrative accountability, he said, is preferable to formal student representation in all matters as an answer to legitimate student demands.

"I think," he added, "that the sharing of faculty and administrative power with students on a widely dispersed democratic basis would be a disaster for our kind of academic institution."

With that many other administrators would agree. Laying their own jobs on the line every few years might not be so popularly supported. Nevertheless, it is a good idea.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP)—A test is coming later this year between the never-to-be-underestimated sales skills of the automotive manufacturers and a public that has become a bit suspicious and financially tightfisted.

For 50 years or so the remarkable sales efforts of the carmakers—involving high pressure, low pressure, psychology, sex and, it has been claimed, outright deceit—generated a mania for wheels among Americans.

A car became not only a transport vehicle that opened up brand-new pastimes and created new needs, but it became a symbol of success even when simply an inert pile of metal parked outside a house.

Each year the new models evolved as regularly as the seasons, and as far into the future as any auto man could peer, all that could be seen was a succession of more "seasons."

Almost every year the sales figures increased, and now the Big Three automakers are sprawling enterprises employing hundreds of thousands of workers. Financially they are more powerful than some industrial nations.

Each year this included, the industry's leaders projected what appeared to be astronomical sales figures, but in more instances than not they reached them. This year the forecast is for 9.5 million car sales—and a sales test.

The obstacles come from different points in time. Of immediate danger to forecasts is that prices have been increased at the very time that consumer resistance may be stiffening. Every important measure of consumer confidence is falling now. People are watching their money.

Even though sales of the 1970 models shot off the mark—in September alone sales totaled 645,000 units, or 80,000 more than in September 1968—doubts are growing that the pace can be maintained.

Already some authorities in the industry are forecasting a decline in sales right through the end of 1969. And 1970 remains in doubt, an economic riddle.

Some forecasters foresee the economic boom continuing in 1970, and that carries with it the suggestion that car sales could boom too. But the official government view is different. It calls for a slowdown, and if that happens car sales will become sluggish also.

Just as important as the financial and economic considerations, almost any auto man will concede, is the increasingly critical view that Americans take of their new cars, no matter how throaty the engine or resonant the door. Once they ran their hand over the paint, now they lift the hood.

Moreover, despite their affluence, many Americans are realizing that cars can be expensive to operate. Garage charges continue to rise. So do insurance rates, taxes, parking tickets.

At 11 cents a mile—the government estimate—you could cross the continent by air for less than it could cost by automobile, a shocking realization for those who continue to regard their vehicles as metal slaves that work for nothing.

Will all these factors—deterioration of consumer confidence, a probable downturn in the economy, the increasingly critical attitude of buyers—hinder the automakers significantly?

You couldn't tell it from their own forecasts, which call for sales of 13.5 million cars and trucks in the year 1975. Nor do the independent surveys and forecasts call for any great lessening of demand.

The National Industrial Conference Board, for example, foresees a continued bullish market in the 1970s, basing its conclusions on the prospect of increasingly younger and richer families.

Based solely on population and financial prospects, the market certainly will be there. But it is unlikely that ever again will it be the docile, receptive, uncritical market of years gone by.

The sales ingenuity of the car people is going to be tested. Just because, statistically, the market is there doesn't mean they'll get it. But neither can anyone ever underestimate the marketing skills of Detroit.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A MOTORIST in Maine stopped to ask an old lady tending her garden, "Can you tell me the way to Moosehead Lake?" "No, I can't," was the reply. The motorist murmured, "Thanks, anyhow," and drove on, but suddenly heard a shout behind him. An old fellow had joined the gardener, and the pair were beckoning him to back up. When he obeyed, the old lady announced, "This here is my husband. He don't know either."

Ambitious drama students at a midwestern university had just put on a ragged presentation of "Hamlet," and the entire review of the unfeeling critic on the campus daily ran as follows: "There long has raged a controversy over who actually wrote 'Hamlet'—Shakespeare or Bacon. Now that our drama class has presented the play, I propose we settle the matter once and for all by opening their graves. The one who's turning over wrote 'Hamlet!'"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Our newborn second child obviously has cross-eyes. As educators, we know that this can be a source of embarrassment to young children. We would like to have this corrected as soon as possible. At what age is such surgery most successful?

Dear Mr. and Mrs. J. W., Pennsylvania
I assume that you have been told by a specialist in eye diseases that there is some muscular imbalance or disorder of the eyes. If you have not had an opinion, it is imperative that you get one immediately about the significance of your own observations.

Almost every newborn child has difficulty in focusing on objects and his eyes seem to roll without any coordination or relationship to each other. Before long, he learns to focus properly and this apparent muscular imbalance begins to disappear.

Sometimes there is a failure in the proper and equal development of the muscles of the eyes that result in a condition known as squint or cross-eyes. Almost always these are relatively simple problems, the treatment of which may be intensive eye exercises or surgery. In most cases there is no impairment of vision.

Your concern about the need for an operation seems to be premature at this age. Only after the exact diagnosis is made can any decision be arrived at for surgery in your individual case.

You are wise to be so distinctly aware of the problem, even though it is too early to establish a form of treatment. It is surprising how frequently children between the ages of three and five have a distinct squint which may have gone unnoticed by parents. A physician, a teacher or a neighbor might be the first to be aware of it and call it to the parents' attention. Parents should not dismiss a squint because it seems to come and go, especially with fatigue. An attitude of casual neglect or hoping that the squint will disappear is the wrong way to handle this problem.

Valuable time can be wasted that might be used for the correction of this disorder with or without surgery. It is particularly important that some form of treatment be instituted before school and the learning processes are begun. Far too many children have this or other visual disturbances which handicap them and prevent them from keeping up with their classmates.

The new science of orthoptics devotes itself to specially planned, scientifically accurate eye exercises to try to restore maximum eye function. Remarkable new teaching devices can correct the so-called "lazy eye" in many instances.

The exact time at which any surgery is chosen and performed depends, of course, on the individual case and the surgeon's decision. The operation is a very safe one and the results are most gratifying.

The psychological benefits of correcting cross-eyes are great, for they spare the child the painful comments of playmates. The visual benefits are, of course, the prime objective in the choice of any form of treatment.

Plans Of The SDS-ers

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
College presidents have returned to their respective campus offices, the more timorous of them in fear and trembling lest they hear the New Left knock on the door and the bolder spirits among them loaded for the Students for a Democratic Society bear (color the animal red). But the New Left, which is not without a sense of circumspection as well as of strategy, may not be gunning for Prexy this year. Indeed, all signs point to shifting the student struggles to the streets, beginning next week (the anniversary week of the guerrilla leader Che Guevara's death in Bolivia) with massive demonstrations outside a Chicago courtroom where eight New Leftists are being tried for allegedly conspiring to produce a riot during the 1968 Democratic convention.

The master mind behind the new strategy is none other than Mark Rudd, who has parleyed his notoriety in staging the 1968 Columbia University shambles into a job as National Secretary of the Chicago fraction of the SDS. Mark, who betrays the Castroite Cuban touch in his salutation — "Venceremos! (We shall conquer) Yours in Struggle" — has issued his manifesto:

"On October 11, 1969, SDS is calling tens of thousands of people to return to Chicago for a massive march against the war in Vietnam, in support of the Black Liberation Struggle, and against the increasing political repression that has particularly menaced black and brown communities throughout the country. We intend to return to Chicago precisely because it has come to symbolize what a government held together by force is all about. And we intend to return with young people from the high schools, community colleges and the streets, with workers from the factories and with GIs."

Mark has asked for $100,000 in cash contributions to bring the gang back to Daley — Town-on-the-Lake. Naturally no one is seeing his books, but the objective evidence is that someone is paying his printers' bills. For example, literature calling for an Oct. 8 memorial rally in Chicago for Che Guevara ("murdered by CIA pigs") has flooded the streets of Venice, California, 2,000 miles distant.

Wherever there is an art festival, or a rock and roll gathering, the SDS literature ("Bring the War Home!") gets passed out with the marijuana. Whether the SDS has the muscle to tear Mayor Richard Daley's community apart all over again will be known when we have the opportunity to measure its promises against performance. The October 8 march on behalf of Che Guevara's memory is supposed to be peaceful, the "pigs" willing. But the script for Thursday, the ninth, calls for action to "liberate the high schools, bus our brothers and sisters out of jail, so they can join us in the streets." On Friday, October 10, the SDS promises to "tear up the fascist courts." The climax is supposed to come on Saturday, the eleventh, with a march that will include a "show of force."

The New Left could be riding for a fall in all this. For the mood of the majority, especially in the big cities, is clearly against what one dissenting New Leftist has called "the worst sort of adventure." Jeffrey St. John, author of the recent "Countdown to Chaos" who follows New Left journalism with a specialist's eye, calls the attention of the Liberation News Service that says, "SDS is organizing a defeat, which will unnecessarily add some more victims to the repression of the ruling class . . . the price will be paid by the movement . . . and discredit the movement as a whole."

Distaste for New Left violence has already helped elect "law and order" mayors in Los Angeles, Minneapolis and elsewhere: an SDS created shambles in Chicago could help complete the sweep by adding to the boomerang action against the Liberal incumbent, Mayor John Lindsay, in New York.

A fiasco in Chicago will also have its depressing effect on the plans now being set up by Sam Brown of the Vietnam Moratorium Committee, Professor John Kenneth Galbraith of Harvard and Professor Noam Chomsky of M.I.T. for a student boycott of classes on October 15 to protest continuation of the Vietnamese War even on a diminishing scale. The Nixon moratorium on the draft is bound to limit the effectiveness of the Brown-Galbraith movement anyway, for anyone can see with half an eye that the days of the draft are numbered. The cue for the sensible college administrator is to let bycotters take October 15 off; loss of a day's education, which they are paying for, will hurt nobody but themselves.

Nixon's Support Gives Big Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's endorsement has given a strong boost to chances of getting a constitutional amendment providing for direct election of presidents through Congress, to the plan's chief Senate sponsor.

"Although presidential endorsement of the direct election plan certainly does not secure adoption by the Senate," Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said Tuesday, "it would be my thought that the President's strong position would have a considerable amount of influence on senators who have not yet made up their minds on the subject."

Bayh went on to say after Nixon switched his position Tuesday that "I think we have an excellent chance of getting this thing through." Congress and he expressed hope for final action by the end of the year.

Support for the proposal also came from Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott who said the Judiciary Committee probably will report out the direct election plan.

Rhodes Praises Work Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes reported Wednesday that the Bureau of Employment Services' Work Incentive Program "is moving people off welfare into job training and jobs and at the same time accomplishing savings to taxpayers approaching the $2 million mark."

The governor based his statement on a report from Willard P. Dudley, bureau administrator, on the 20 counties where the incentive program is in operation.

Counties which participate in the program are Ashtabula, Butler, Cuyahoga, Franklin, Hamilton, Jackson, Jefferson, Lake, Lawrence, Lorain, Lucas, Mahoning, Montgomery, Muskingum, Pike, Ross, Scioto, Stark, Summit and Trumbull.

Ohio City Gets New Factory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rolling Midwest Industries, Inc., has been commended by Gov. James A. Rhodes for its plan for immediate construction of a mobile home manufacturing plant in Ohio City, six miles southwest of Van Wert.

The company plans to build five plants in the tri-state area of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. When full capacity is achieved at the 60,000-square-foot facility in Ohio City, the company expects to produce 15 mobile homes per day.

The five plants are to have an annual production volume valued at between $25 and $40 million, and will employ a total of 700 persons with a payroll of about $5 million a year firm officials said. There was no estimate of how many persons would be employed in the Ohio city plant.

BANK MURDER ARRESTEES—Four suspects in the savings and loan robbery in which four women were murdered in Cincinnati, Ohio, are in custody with these arrests. Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, Oct. 2, the 275th day of 1969. There are 90 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1919, President Woodrow Wilson suffered a stroke, completely paralyzing the left side of his body.

On this date: In 1780, the British officer who negotiated Benedict Arnold's attempt to surrender West Point, Maj. John Andre, was hanged as a spy.

In 1788, the Cherokee Indians signed a treaty permitting free passage through their lands in Tennessee.

In 1804, the population of England was mobilized to resist invasion by Napoleon Bonaparte.

In 1869, the Indian nationalist leader, Mohandas Gandhi, was born.

In 1889, the first Pan-American conference opened in Washington.

In 1941, during World War II, German armies launched an all-out drive against Moscow.

Ten years ago—Italian Premier Antonio Segni was conferring with U.S. officials in Washington.

Five years ago—Some 125,000 persons fled Louisiana's Gulf Coast as a hurricane approached.

One year ago—President Lyndon B. Johnson accepted Abe Fortas' request to withdraw his nomination as U.S. chief justice.

Associated Press Plans Broader Coverages Of News

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — What does The Associated Press have in store for its member newspapers and broadcasting stations?

The Associated Press Managing Editors Association was told by a panel of AP editors and reporters Tuesday that AP plans for the months ahead include:

- Investigative stories that seek to shed light on the workings and failings of government.
- More stories from abroad stressing the human element of the news, not just political and governmental developments.
- More reporters released from desk chores to report events at the scene, and to explore the background surrounding major news stories.
- More color photographs transmitted to members within hours of major events, more graphic displays to add visual explanation of the printed word, and increased use of photo essays telling a story in several pictures.
- Exploitation of new technology to bring more and better editing story material to members faster.

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour" was a success last season and nobody is likely to change its mood in its return year.

The title is a clue to the CBS variety hour's character: It concentrates on cheerful music, mostly country style, and instrumental solos. George Burns guest comedian Wednesday night, remarked that he felt naked because he wasn't carrying a guitar. Almost everybody on the show strums or picks strings.

Campbell has an attractive singing voice and a way with the guitar. He looks like the all-American boy and has a pleasant manner but in large doses he seems a bit bland and there seems to be a sameness about his songs. The program would be more stimulating, too, if there were a stronger mix of comedy among the musical numbers.

After eight years, the Clam- pett family has gone back to the Ozarks for a visit. A change of scene is good for a long-playing situation comedy like "The Beverly Hillbillies," and the script writers can set the jokes in new surroundings.

In past seasons the family has gone to England and to New York. This time, Jethro was left in the Beverly Hills mansion with Mr. Drysdale, the banker, as a sort of keeper.

Granny and the rest apparently have returned to a sort of Ozark Brigadoon where the people still dress as if it were 1880. Jethro, meanwhile, has gone hippy and student protester, giving the writers a chance to poke some broad fun at current events.

"Beverly Hillbillies" may not be everybody's ideal of humor but it has a powerful lot of fans, and it smartly and skillfully accomplishes what it sets out to do.

NBC's "Music Hall" is one variety hour that is not constrained by a format or by the talents or personality of a star host. It can move from one entertainment area to another.

On Wednesday, it was an anti-septic version of a Friars' roast — the Friars being an actors' club and the roast, a tradition. The subject was Milton Berle, and on a dias to pay jocular tribute was an impressive array — comedians Jack Benny, Alan King, Jan Murray, Henny Youngman and Red Buttons, baseball star Don Drysdale, singer Steve Lawrence, and Bishop Fulton J. Sheen.

It was a very funny show. Wise cracks flew around the stage like frightened bats. All the speakers were sharp, bright and warmly insulting. Berle was the butt of humor about his well-publicized joke-stealing and his fondness for dressing in women's clothes for on-stage comedy scenes.

from desk chores to report events at the scene, and to explore the background surrounding major news stories.

Howard Benedict, AP aerospace writer, recalled his start as a reporter of the nation's space efforts. "The first 11 rockets I saw blew up," Benedict said.

When he began in 1959 reporters weren't told when rockets were scheduled to be fired. When they learned of a rocket shot from their own sources, efforts to keep newsmen from getting pictures included a military helicopter descending at launch time to stir up dust and sand at the reporters' hilltop location.

Benedict, 41, was one of two Associated Press staff members honored by the Associated Press Managing Editors for their news reporting and photography during the past year.

The other winner of the sixth annual award was John Duric-ka, 31, for his picture of students fighting at a Columbia University building last April.

Each won a $500 cash prize and plaque.

Benedict was honored for his sustained coverage of space developments during the year, climaxed by his lead stories on the launch of Apollo 11 and the ensuing moonwalk. He said he felt the honor is shared by the rest of the 70-member AP team covering the Apollo 11 journey.

The APME also honored Samuel G. Blackman, who retires Nov. 1 at the end of a 38-year AP career—the last 11 as general news editor of the worldwide news service.

Blackman, whose first big story was the kidnapping of Charles A. Lindbergh's son in 1932, was described as "one of the nation's great newspapermen" by Charles S. Rowe, APME president, who is editor and co-publisher of the Fredericksburg, Va., Free Lance-Star.

Blackman will be succeeded by Rene J. Cappon, the AP's

Solo Ocean Sailor Nailed By Bahamas

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Bearded mariner Bill Verity was hailed as "a history making sailor" Tuesday even though his 22-foot boat had to be towed into Nassau by a lighthouse tender.

Verity was greeted by a police band, a beauty queen, and the chairman of the Bahama Tourist Board, Clifford Darling, who presented him with a plaque lauding his solo sail across the Atlantic from Ireland.

He landed at San Salvador 17 days ago.

McGovern Rips Nixon's Policy On Vietnam War

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern charged Tuesday that instead of fulfilling his pledge to end the Vietnam war, President Nixon "has apparently decided to purchase public patience by successive, carefully timed, token withdrawals of our troops."

In a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors, the South Dakota Democrat said "There is every indication the administration is more sensitive to the wishes of Gen. Thieu (South Vietnamese president) than to the cry of our own citizens that the war be ended now."

"These maneuvers will not work. The longer we linger, the longer we refuse to break with the policies of the past, the longer we shall be enmeshed in the futile waste of our blood and treasure in Southeast Asia—perhaps next in Thailand."

NO MAJORITY—You could call this West German Chancellor Kurt-Georg Kiesinger's victory smile, but that would be stretching a point. Although his Christian Democratic Party won the biggest vote in the West German elections, the Christian Democrats lost a few seats in Parliament and no party has a majority.

Red Cross Volunteers Are Rewarded

A capping and recognition service for Red Cross Volunteers was held on Tuesday evening at the Community United Methodist Church, with Howard Judd, chapter chairman, as the master of ceremonies. He was assisted by Mrs. Thomas Bevan, Mrs. Ronald List and Mrs. Walter Garner, Volunteer advisers.

Receiving their caps and Red Cross volunteer pins were 25 volunteers, having completed the required training and two months service at Berger Hospital.

Receiving certificates of recognition for hours and years of service were 64 girls. All who gave more than 50 hours in a year received a tab indicating their years of service.

Additional recognition went to Cynthia Barnhill, Cheryl Pence and Judy Gulick for service at VA Hospital. Alice Smallwood for completing the First Aid Course and Linda Harman and Judy Snook for completing Senior Life Saving and assistance as teachers in the summer water safety program. Sixteen girls received "thank you" certificates from PICCA for their assistance as volunteers in the summer "Head Start" program.

At present, 60 girls from all parts of Pickaway County are serving as Red Cross Volunteers at Berger Hospital, the Circleville Home and the Red Cross Chapter headquarters.

Pastor Mary L. Henderson Addresses Church Classes

Trailmaker Class of the Calvary United Methodist Church met Tuesday in the church annex with members of Dorcas Pathfinder Class as guests.

Mrs. Harry Betz, in charge of the session, welcomed the guests and conducted a short devotional period. Her topic was "Faith In God, In Others And In Self."

Rev. Mary Lou Henderson, guest speaker, was introduced by Mrs. G. H. Niswender, program chairman. Pastor Henderson used as her subject "This I Have Done." She urged Christian women to become personally involved, to get off their stools of do nothing and to make known their stand on the people and issues that tend to disrupt the Christian way of life. She also stressed that women should not be so desirous of the many things in life which they cannot financially afford and do not really need. She said they should follow St. Paul's advice of knowing both how to abound and how to be abased and in whatsoever state we are therein to be content.

Following Pastor Henderson's address Mrs. Robert Wilson sang "If We Could See Beyond Today."

Entertainment for the evening was conducted by Mrs. Oarus Hively. Prizes were awarded to Miss Vivian Hudnell, Mrs. Harold Griffith, Mrs. Frances Davis, Mrs. Bill Ankrom, Mrs. Myrtle Leist, Mrs. Hazel Cline, Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. Andrew Goeller.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Manley Carothers, Mrs. Bill Ankrom and Mrs. Lucilla LaPe.

Heber Chapter Past Matrons Holds Session

Heber Chapter Past Matrons Circle of the Williamsport Order of the Eastern Star met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Edna Newhouse.

Mrs. Edgar Anderson, president, presided over the business meeting and presented devotions. Members sang "The God Who Cares For Me."

Mrs. John West, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced that the circle plans to sell kitchen knives as a project.

The next meeting will be Dec. 18, in the home of Mrs. West. A Christmas program is planned with Mrs. Carl Hooks and Mrs. Don Schleich as co-chairmen.

Mrs. Newhouse conducted a penny contest and the door prize was won by Mrs. Mary Alice Greenwood.

A salad course was served by Mrs. Wardell and Mrs. Newhouse.

Conservation Given Boost By New Senate Legislation

Natural resource conservation was given a boost when Governor James Rhodes signed a bill which provides for more cooperation among local soil and water conservation districts, the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, and the Ohio Soil and Water Conservation Committee.

Senator Harry Armstrong, R-Logan, primary sponsor of the bill which goes into effect Nov. 6, said it would do more toward accelerating total resource management of soil and water conservation than any other legislation in recent years.

"We are hopeful that SB 190 will make it possible for expanded cooperation between local soil and water conservation districts and county commissioners," Armstrong said.

Don Archer, work unit conservationist for the Pickaway Soil and Water Conservation District, said the new legislation eliminated much local red tape.

"It will definitely speed up the implementation of small watershed projects, such as the proposed Hargus - Hominy project and the already approved Salter Creek Project," Archer stated.

The measure provides for greatly expanded programs for Soil and Water Conservation Districts in the areas of watershed development, reforestation and forest management, soil and water conservation and management, wildlife management and mineral resource utilization.

The bill broadens the functions of soil and water conservation districts to include construction and operation of improvements for natural resource conservation. Previously, their authority extended only to flood prevention. The bill also removed the stipulation that water development programs must be limited to agriculture.

The legislation also gives county commissioners authority to levy an assessment, at a uniform rate on the property in the watershed or other benefited area, to pay the cost of the improvement not paid by state or federal funds. This assessment is subject to a referendum in the area assessed. Finally, the board may hold an election in the benefited area in order to levy a tax to pay for the improvement.

The bill contains several new financing devices for soil and water conservation districts. One is the Soil and Water Conservation Rotary Fund, out of which the Ohio Soil and Water Conservation Commission can advance money for survey and plans, and other preliminary expenses of an improvement. Another method is for the Director of Natural Resources to enter into cost-sharing agreements under which the state shares the cost of construction of improvement, up to 50 per cent of the non-federal cost of the project.

The bill calls for some organization changes in the Department of Natural Resources. It would create the Ohio Soil and Water Conservation Commission in the Department, which is in effect a transfer of the existing Ohio Soil and Water Conservation Committee (now independent) with the addition of a member to be selected by the Ohio Federation of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

A Division of Soil and Water Districts would be created in the Department, which would be the service arm for the Commission and the Soil and Water Conservation districts and for any other type of soil and water districts in the state.

End Testimony Against 3 Men In Mail Fraud

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Testimony concluded Wednesday in the trial of three officers of defunct Diversified Brokers, Inc., on federal charges of mail fraud and violations of the Securities and Exchange Act.

The case was expected to go to the jury today.

Defendants are Donald P. Smallwood, former president of the firm; Roy E. Lay, vice president, and Harold F. Connell, executive secretary and treasurer.

The company, dealing in distressed and surplus merchandise, offered unsecured promissory notes to investors at interest rates ranging from 25 to 80 per cent.

Two Pentecostal Church of God in America ministers from Ohio testified they invested in Diversified and one said he encouraged others to do so.

The Rev. James F. Martin of Fremont, Ohio, said Connell approached him at a church convention in Canton, Ohio, in late 1965 or early 1966, and asked permission to speak to the delegates about investment in Diversified.

Martin said he agreed to represent the firm and contacted members of the church and others, who invested about $150,000 to $160,000 in notes. He said he invested $1,000 and did not take profits, preferring to reinvest interest.

The Rev. Berlin W. Leonard of Defiance, Ohio, said he heard Connell speak at a church meeting in Canton and invested $2,000 through Martin. He said he also let his interest ride.

Receivers appointed by the court expect to recover about $3 million of $15 million involved in the transactions.

U.S. OKs Ohio Pollution Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two federal pollution experts concluded during a meeting with state officials Wednesday that Ohio is making a reasonable effort to clean up its waters.

David Dominick, a federal Water Pollution Control Administration official, said Ohio's pollution abatement timetable was not out of line with that of the federal government.

He and Allan G. Kirk II, an Interior Department attorney, said hearings next week against the city of Toledo and four Ohio steel firms are merely to bring about voluntary compliance of pollution abatement.

"Our inquiry will be to determine whether the schedule is being followed," Dominick said. He said reports that Toledo and the four firms were going into a legal hearing as the result of pollution were "not accurate" and were misinterpreted.

The two men were brought to Ohio by Gov. James A. Rhodes, who flew to Washington Tuesday to meet with Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel.

Rhodes told Hickel that the federal government had moved against Toledo and the steel firms without checking with Ohio to see what had been arranged.

Dominick and Kirk conferred with George Eagle, chief of engineering for the Ohio Department of Health and staff members who do the technical work for the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board.

"We know a great deal more now than we knew last month," Kirk said following the meeting.

Dominick said officials at both levels of government agree that pollution exists.

"The Cuyahoga River is one of the most notoriously polluted bodies of water in the country and everybody knows it," he said.

Republic Steel, U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin were cited as polluters of the Cuyahoga. A hearing for the firms is scheduled in Cleveland Tuesday and Wednesday.

The city of Toledo and Inter-lake Steel will answer charges of polluting the Maumee River at a hearing in Toledo on Thursday.

Rhodes told Hickel that all of those cited were complying with a timetable of pollution abatement worked out by the state.

A deadline of Dec. 31, 1971, has been set for the majority of Lake Erie polluters to complete waste treatment improvements, he said. And many of the antipollution facilities will be completed well before that, he added.

Morton Attacks Mayor Stokes At GOP Meeting

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — National Republican Chairman Rogers Morton, here for the unofficial opening of Ralph J. Perk's campaign to unseat Mayor Carl B. Stokes in the Nov. 4 election, said "there is no excuse" not to elect Perk.

Addressing an assembly of Cuyahoga County Republican Executive Committee members late Wednesday, Morton said he was here to assure Perk that the national GOP organization stood ready to back him in every way, except financially.

"It would be wonderful if I could say we were going to give you a million dollars, but we're not going to, Ralph," Morton told the county auditor who won the Republican mayoralty nomination without opposition.

Robert E. Hughes, co-chairman of the county GOP organization, told the executive committee that Perk's campaign treasury now consists of exactly $583.

KNOCKS ARMY NEWSPAPER — Col. James Campbell, chief U.S. Army information officer in Vietnam, was relieved of his post after he described the Pacific edition of the military newspaper Stars and Stripes as the "Hanoi Herald" and said battle reports in it constituted "treason."

ROUNDTOWN VISITORS — Kenji Mihara, left, and Kenji Shimada, engineering students from Osaka, Japan were hailed by Japanese native and Circleville resident, Midora Cupp, as they cycled through Circleville on a cross country tour promoting Expo 70, which will be held in their hometown.

Expo Promoters Visit Circleville

By BETTY DAWLEY
Herald Staff Writer

Kanji Mihara and Kenji Shimada, engineering students from Osaka, Japan, bicycled through Circleville Wednesday enroute to Washington D. C. and New York City promoting Expo 70, the Japanese World's Fair, which will be held in their hometown.

The 22-year-olds, acting as self-appointed public relations agents, have no predetermined schedule for the cycling trip that will have covered some 5,000 miles at journey's end.

On compactly fitted bicycles, the promoters departed Los Angeles July 21. They arrived in Circleville Tuesday night by way of Carson City, Nev., Salt Lake City, Utah; Denver Colo.; Kansas City; St. Louis, Cincinnati and Wilmington, where they were extended the hospitality of Wilmington College. Overnight accommodations in Circleville were at Ted Lewis Park.

Equipped with self-explaining pamphlets, slides and tapes, Mihara and Shimada will speak to any group if invited to do so. Language is a barrier. Neither speaks English, though this has not been a major problem during their travels, according to the students.

THE Herald interview with the students was possible through an interpreter. Japanese native, Mrs. Larry (Midora) Cupp of 155 W. High St. noticed the young men Wednesday morning and was able to greet and converse with them in their native tongue. A resident of Circleville for 11 years, Mrs. Cupp, who speaks fluent English, found herself sometimes groping for word translations but quickly became an apt interpreter.

Both Shimada and Mihara have completed four years of engineering studies in Osaka. Both will receive engineering degrees following one more year of study.

When preparations were begun in Osaka for Expo 70, interest and excitement in the hometown display led the students to plan the promotional tour. They have no sponsors. They are simply fulfilling a desire to conduct a Good Will tour through America stressing the upcoming extravaganza.

Once they have reached their destination, New York City, the bicycles will be shipped back to Japan. The good will ambassadors will return to Los Angeles where they have arranged to enter speech school "to learn the language" before the return voyage to their homeland in January or February, 1970.

Papers Nix 'Lewd Ad'

NEW YORK (AP)—The Simon & Schuster publishing company says a half dozen newspapers have rejected advertisements for Irving Wallace's "The Seven Minutes."

Most of the papers apparently felt that the ad was not in good taste. The book deals with pornography and censorship.

Newspapers rejecting the ad included The Cleveland Plain Dealer, The Cincinnati Enquirer, The Boston Globe, The Houston Chronicle, the Dallas Morning News and Long Island's Newsday.

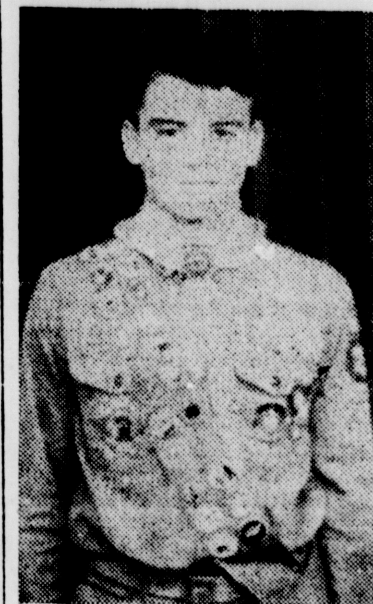

Thomas Gormley, Cincinnati Enquirer advertising director, called the ad "downright lewd."

The Plain Dealer informed the publishing house in a letter simply that it found the ad "unacceptable."

The eight-inch ad showed a nude woman scene and described the book in vivid terms.

comment to make, both unhesitatingly replied, "Come to Expo 70 in Osaka, Japan."

Troop 52 Honors New Eagle Scout

STEVE THROCKMORTON

On Monday Boy Scout Troop 52 held a Eagle Court of Honor in the Sanctuary of the Community Methodist Church.

The highest award in scouting, the Eagle Rank was awarded to Steve Throckmorton.

Steve is 16 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Throckmorton, Route 4. The new Eagle Scout has been a member of troop 52 for the past three years. He has held different patrol and troop offices and is presently registered as a Junior Assistant Scoutmaster.

David Schneider of the Pickaway District Committee conducted the Eagle Ceremony and Mark Lackey, also of the Pickaway District, administered the Eagle Pledge.

R. N. Phillips, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Phillips was awarded his Life Award. Thomas Spring was awarded his First Class pin.

Receiving Second Class Badges were Allen Dray and Mark Schiewetz. New Tenderfoot Scouts, Michael Parks, Tony Dray and Ty Foster were taken into the troop. The Eagle Bronze Palm was awarded to David Shank. Michael Vaughan earned his Gold Quill Award.

AFL-CIO Meet To Raise Dues

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The AFL-CIO opened its convention today with plans to kick out one union and to raise dues by $4.6 million a year for some 13 million members of the labor federation's remaining 121 unions.

Both actions were linked, at least in part, with Walter Reuther's withdrawal of his United Auto Workers from the federation last year after a bitter leadership quarrel with AFL-CIO President George Meany.

The loss of Reuther's 1.6 million auto workers left a financial hole of about $1 million a year in the federation's income.

The AFL-CIO's 29-man executive council, headed by Meany, voted Wednesday to ask the 1,000 convention delegates to expel the International Chemical Workers Union for joining Reuther's Alliance for Labor Action.

Reuther formed the alliance early this year with acting President Frank Fitzsimmons of the 1.9-million-member Teamsters Union, which was expelled from the AFL-CIO in 1957 on corruption charges.

Ironically, Reuther was a major leader in the fight to oust the teamsters from the federation.

The 110,000-member chemical workers joined the alliance despite Meany's warning that any AFL-CIO union that did so would face expulsion.

The 75-year-old Meany branded the auto workers-teamsters alliance a "hostile" labor organization set up to raid and otherwise compete with AFL-CIO unions.

The proposed dues increase from 7 cents per member per month to 10 cents will add $4.6 million to AFL-CIO income, bringing it to about $15.6 million a year.

The money is used for the federation's programs to organize new workers, lobby in Congress and conduct other business of the nation's labor movement.

In addition to offsetting the loss of auto worker dues, the Spring, Kenneth Yamarick and Phillip Roll. Eight scouts received service stars for from one to six years service. Senior Strips were presented to five scouts.

New Troop officers installed were, Kenneth Yamarick as Senior Patrol Leader and R. N. Phillips as Assistant Senior Patrol Leader.

Following the Court of Honor, refreshments were served in the church basement.

AFL-CIO needs more money to operate its recently created labor studies center in Washington to train union officials in modern problems facing the labor movement.

In other action, the AFL-CIO executive council urged President Nixon to work to wipe out racial discrimination and segregation in the nation.

"There should be no retreat or compromise," said the council of the labor federation, some of whose unions have themselves been accused of discrimination against Negroes and other minorities.

The Children's Corner

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Pickaway County Public Library has a section devoted to books for children. Volumes recently added to the Children's Library are reviewed here.

Joe Rae of 570 Ridgewood Drive will be the special story lady Friday at the Pre-School Story Hours. Mrs. Rae, who has a degree in speech, is especially capable in this area; she has a small child of her own. The regular story lady will be on hand to introduce Mrs. Rae and to listen to her stories with the children.

"Have You Seen My Puppy?" by Adelaide Holl. Illustrated by Joe Veno. Jody loses his puppy at the zoo and must search among all the animals until he finds his pet. Unusual line and color illustrations, somewhat reminiscent of the twenties, make this book different from most easy readers. Grades 1-3.

"The Little Brown Gazelle" by Gail Barclay. A baby gazelle is left alone under an acacia tree. "Be as quiet as a whisper and as still as a stone," admonishes his mother. She leaves him alone for several hours. An obedient little gazelle, he follows her instructions, though lions, snakes and wart hogs come into his clearing. He remains there through a rainstorm and even after night falls. Better than average easy reader. Grades 1-3.

"Mystery of the Crimson Ghost" by Phyllis Whitney. Phyllis Whitney is a real mistress of the art of storytelling. Little girls and big girls and grandmothers, too, have loved her books. Here she combines all the suspense of a good mystery with a horse story. How lucky can young readers be? Grades 4-6.

"Barry, the Story of a Brave St. Bernard" by Bettina Hurlimann. Illustrated by Paul Nussbaumer. Barry lived over a hundred and fifty years ago. His fame was such that he is still remembered in the Swiss Alps and at the hospice in which he lived. This magnificent dog was raised and trained by a monk named Martin, and even when he was still a puppy he showed signs of great intelligence and valor. Barry's biography contains the legends of some of his rescues. During his lifetime, he saved over forty humans from snowy deaths. Illustrations by Paul Nussbaumer are simply beautiful. The team of Nussbaumer and Hurlimann are responsible also for the lovely "William Tell and His Sons." Grades 4-6.

"Miss Patches Learn-to-Sew Book" by Carolyn Meyer. Illustrated by Mary Suzuki. Miss Patches makes a pillow, an apron, a play skirt and some doll clothes. She tells all about them in this easy-to-follow book. Any little girl who would like to sew will enjoy "Miss Patches." Grades 4-6.

"The American Prairie Chicken" by Mary Adrian, illustrated by Genevieve Vaughan-Jackson. In this informative little book about the fast disappearing Attwater prairie chicken, Mary Adrian described a one-year cycle. She begins with the elaborate courtship drum and dance and tells about the selection of a mate by the female. Though she lays a full dozen eggs, she is able to raise only five to maturity. A Cooper's hawk gets one when it is very young; three die in a cold snap; three are killed by a wild dog. But next spring, true to her instinctive urge to reproduce, she scratches out another nest. Illustrations are sensitive pencil drawings of prairie wild life.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A gift band of fellow sergeants engaged in a systematic conspiracy to loot the clubs.

Investigator Irvin E. Beard also accused the Army of hiding the facts to avoid embarrassing Gen. Harold K. Johnson, who, as Army chief of staff, had named Woodbridge the Army's first sergeant major.

Senate aides said Beard's tale of kickbacks, padded payrolls, falsified vouchers and rigged slot machines is only the foothill of a mountain of information developed during eight months of probing alleged multimillion dollar thefts at Army clubs around the world. The clubs had a gross income last year of $750 million.

Tuesday's testimony brought COMMON PLEAS COURT PROBATE DIVISION NOTICE. All interested parties are hereby notified that the following Administrators, Executors and Guardian have filed their accounts in the Common Pleas Court Probate Division, Pickaway County, Ohio:

No. 23338 Martha Brown, Administrator of the estate of Everett Brown, deceased. First and Final Account.

No. 23088 Harry E. Robinson, Administrator of the estate of Jessie Miller, deceased. Final and Distributive Account.

No. 23404 Grace Mace, Administrator of the estate of Fred Lovenshimer, deceased. First and Final Account.

No. 23427 Helen L. Cormanick, Executrix of the estate of Hazel E. Coey, deceased. First and Final Account.

No. 22401 John D. Robinson, Executor of the estate of Gertrude W. Robinson, deceased. Executor's Account.

No. 23330 Faye Gallion, Administrator of the estate of Bert Gallion, deceased. First and Final Account.

No. 22876 George W. Caldwell, Executor of the estate of Maggie C. Miller, deceased. Final and Distributive Account.

No. 22882 Viola Hoffer, Executrix of the estate of F. E. Coward, deceased. Statement in Lieu of an Account.

No. 1931-A David I. Pontius, Trustee in the Will of the Estate of Ora E. Pontius, deceased. Second Partial Account.

And that said accounts will be for hearing and settlement before the court on Monday, October 13th, 1969, at 9 o'clock A.M. Exceptions to said accounts, if any, must be filed herein on or before October 7th, 1969.

Gen. William Cunningham, then 42nd Infantry Division commander in Germany, acted to cover up the irregularities in the clubs and, in the investigator's words, "permit the persons responsible for them to go scot-free."

He said he became so frustrated during the investigation and so convinced that no charges would be pressed against those involved that he agreed with higher officers the case should be closed.

Beard charged also that Maj. Resor that "a number of strategically placed enlisted men have apparently been able to abuse their positions in nonappropriated fund activities" to siphon the pay of their fellow soldiers into their own pockets. Resor said the Army is moving firmly to correct the situation.

The hearing also brought cries of astonishment from senators who were told the Army machines operated at various service clubs to bring in up to 70 per cent in profit.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said that rate far exceeded that expected by Las Vegas gambling casinos.

Last month the Army revoked its award of the Distinguished Service Medal, its second-highest decoration, saying it had information Woodbridge did not deserve it.

The sergeant would not comment on the accusations after the hearing.

His attorney, David Thomas, called Beard's testimony conjecture. He said no evidence exists to present to a court martial or a trial.

Beard said his analysis of slot machine receipts during a four-year period indicated to him as much as $1.4 million might have been stolen from the gambling devices alone.

"When I sought evidence in the club records, I found them inaccurate, missing, destroyed or concealed," he testified. He said later his own reports on the case have disappeared from Army files in Germany.

Harrington Wins U.S. House Seat

BOSTON (AP) — Voters in the 6th Massachusetts congressional district have elected as U.S. representative a Democrat who advocates a stepped-up withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam and a change in the priorities of the Nixon administration.

Winner in Tuesday's balloting to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Rep. William H. Bates was state Rep. Michael J. Harrington, 33, a former McCarthy-for-president supporter. The district had been Republican since 1875.

He defeated state Sen. William L. Saltonstall, 42, son of retired U.S. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, 72,030 to 65,453.

Saltonstall ran as a down-the-line Nixon supporter.

Harrington made increased aid to the cities a key plank of his campaign platform, and rolled up enough urban votes in the Democratic strongholds to outweigh Saltonstall's margin in the smaller Republican towns.

It was the fourth special congressional election this year which the Democrats won from the GOP, and the national Democratic party chairman, Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., described it as another rejection of the administration's course.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS. Logan Man Gets Retrial

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Logan man serving a six-year prison term for mail theft has been granted a new trial by the Sixth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Charles Melvin Amerine, convicted by a jury in U. S. District Court here in June 1968, was granted further action because the trial judge, Joseph P. Kinneary, disclosed he was U.S. attorney at the time the charges were filed in 1968.

The appellate court opinion does not overturn the conviction but grants further action in the new trial which has not yet been assigned a date. Amerine was convicted of taking a total of $36,400 from a mail truck he was driving for a private contract firm which hauled mail from Columbus to the Logan Post Office.

The appeals court noted that the judge had no personal knowledge of the case, just the formal contact. The opinion said the "appellant never suggested disqualification until the issue had been raised by the judge himself, and the formal motion for disqualification was presented belatedly on the eve of the trial."

Urbana College Comes Back From Time Of Troubles

URBANA, Ohio (AP) — Urbana College, one of the fastest growing church supported colleges in the nation, almost went out of business for lack of students during World War II.

Folklore Art Is Emphasized

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Educational Television is producing a documentary film of life in Kentucky through the arts. The one-hour color movie will focus on folklore and folk-songs.

courses at the 120-year-old college founded by the Swedenborgian Church.

The college was founded in 1850 but the Ohio General Assembly didn't issue it a charter until 1853. The first year of operation went off with 98 students and six teachers.

It was a coeducational institution, unusual in those days, and the students paid $30 per year tuition and furnished their own heating coal.

In 1918 the practice of granting diplomas from the college began with three initial two-year graduates. By 1920, enrollment had dropped to below 50 students, including only nine junior college students. It was then the school received its first major endowment, from Col. T. Coleman Du Pont, founder of the Du Pont company, who had attended Urbana with his brother. Du Pont gave the school about $250,000.

Enrollment continued to decline, however, reaching only 11 in 1923-24, with only two junior college students. By this time the school became known as Urbana Junior College.

Since 1938, property value of the school has increased from $130,000 to over $2 million and plans call for almost $2.5 million in more buildings by 1975. This year's estimated enrollment hit 650 students, including the two branch campuses and as many as 1,200 students are expected by 1975. The faculty has grown to 41 with plans that call for 100 within five years.

Huts Exported

MBABANE, Swaziland (AP) — Swaziland's latest export commodity is grass huts. The traditional beehive-shaped huts have caught on with tourists from neighboring white-ruled South Africa. Turned out by a team of 25 African hut makers here at Rands 180 ($252) a throw, the huts are considered just the thing for swimming pool changerooms or garden shelters in Johannesburg's upperclass suburbs.

The Swedenborgian Church is based on the theological works of Emanuel Swedenborg (1688-1772) who claimed he was used by God to unite religion and science. His followers formed the General Convention of New Jerusalem in 1861.

Helen Keller, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, the elder Henry James and Abraham Lincoln were reportedly influenced by Swedenborg's works.

The El Molo tribe of Kenya live in twig huts tied together and covered with water weeds. Stones anchor the flimsy shelters to the ground as protection against gale winds that sweep across a nearby lake at 90 miles an hour.

House Democrats Set Sights On 1970 Election Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, elated by an 800 batting average in special elections, are setting their sights on knocking over even more Republicans in 1970.

"These special elections clearly foretell what is going to happen in next year's mid-term congressional election," said House Leader Carl Albert.

His and other Democratic statements came in response to Tuesday's special election in the 6th Massachusetts Congressional District where a Democrat won for the first time since 1875.

Albert forecast that the 1970 elections "will result not in Republican gains in the House but rather a substantial increase in our Democratic majority."

With President Nixon taking the White House last year, the Republicans were able to pick up only four House seats.

Now the Democrats have won back three seats in special elections this year. Their margin is 244-188 with three vacancies yet to be filled. And, traditionally the party in power at the White House loses strength in the House in off-year elections.

In Massachusetts, Michael J. Harrington, a 33-year-old Vietnam war dove, won the seat held for 18 years by the late GOP Rep. William Bates, who followed his father in the post.

The other turnovers this year came when Rep. David R. Obey, also a Democratic dove, captured the 7th District in Wisconsin and Rep. John Meicher took over Montana's 2nd District.

Melvin R. Laird, named Nixon's Secretary of Defense, had represented the Wisconsin area for 16 years, and James F. Batin held the longtime Republican seat in Montana for eight years before being appointed to a federal judgeship.

In other two special elections this year, Democrats retained the 8th District of Tennessee and Republicans—in their only win in five tries—held on to the 27th District in California as Barry Goldwater Jr. replaced Ed Reinecke, who became lieutenant governor.

The three vacancies in the House now are in the usually Republican 13th District which Donald Rumsfeld represented before being named Nixon's anti-poverty director; the 6th Illinois, a Democratic area of Chicago held by Daniel J. Rosten until his recent death; and New Jersey's 8th District, where Charles S. Joelson, a Democrat, resigned to accept a judgeship.

British Army Forms Special Squads For Irish Outbreaks

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The British army has formed "heavy squads"—tough, specially trained troops armed with clubs—to break up religious riots in Northern Ireland.

They will carry no guns, only two-foot nightsticks, with orders to use them when necessary.

"They are not going to be bully boys," an army spokesman said. "But this will be a move away from the more passive role the army has taken so far."

Each squad will have about 10 men, equipped with steel helmets, gas masks, bullet proof vests and combat jackets. They include boxing champions, football heavyweights and others selected for their athletic prowess, the spokesman said.

Their job will be to penetrate angry crowds and arrest ring leaders and persons who throw stones and gasoline bombs.

Frustration has mounted among the 7,650 British soldiers here to keep the peace between warring Protestants and Roman Catholics. The troops have been targets for both sides, and short of using tear gas to control missile-hurling crowds, they have been under orders simply to separate the combatants at rifle point.

"We have decided it is no longer enough just to keep factions apart and break up mobs," the army spokesman said. "Until now agitators have been able to throw something nasty, knowing they could disappear into a friendly crowd."

"Now we intend to go in after them and lift them out. If anyone in the crowd tries to stop us arresting lawbreakers they must take the consequences."

The spokesman said the squads will be brought into action as soon as possible.

Defective Wiring Blamed In Fatal Marion Blaze

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Firemen say defective wiring may have caused an apartment house fire Wednesday in which five people died.

Smoke from the blaze, which originated in the kitchen of a first floor apartment, asphyxiated Luna Rose, 22, a semi-invalid who lived alone; Mrs. Edgar Jackson, 11, 18, her two children, Edgar III, six months and Melissa, 3, and Mary Jane Leininger, 10, a neighbor who was staying with Mrs. Jackson.

Firemen said heat and smoke swirling up an open back staircase trapped the victims on the second floor.

Mrs. Rose's body was found kneeling at an unopened window. The other victims were in their beds.

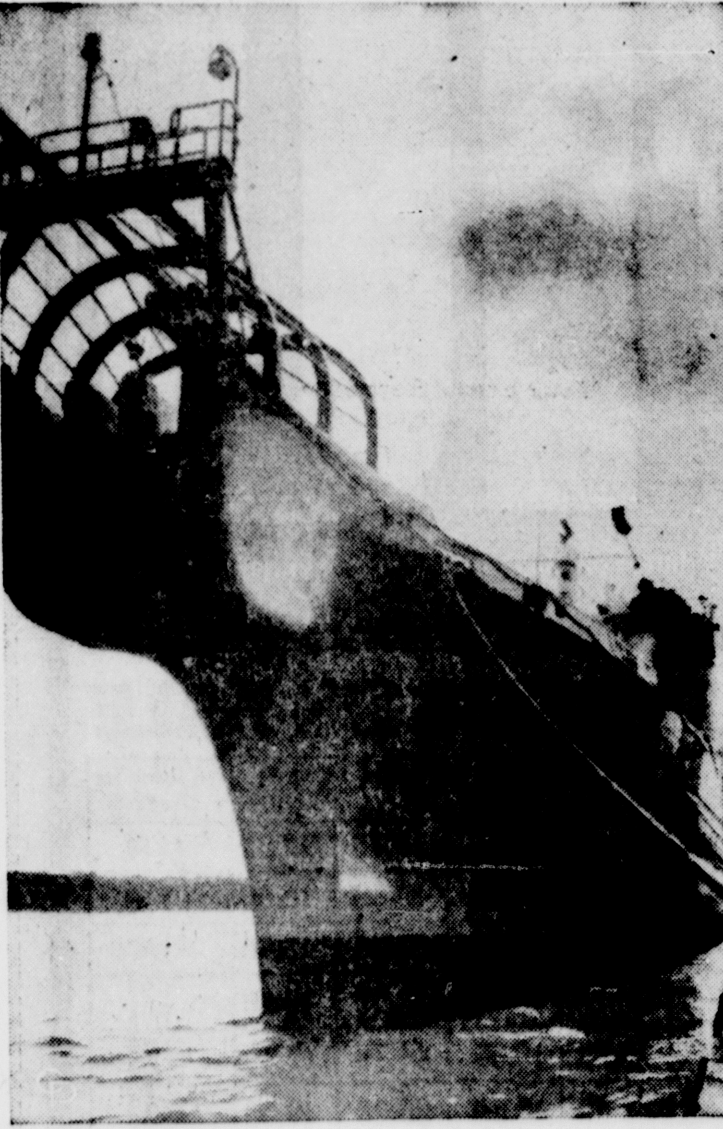

A prickly-seeded form of spinach — still eaten — was known in 13th century Germany. By the 14th century, this species was commonly grown in European monastery gardens. A 1390 cookbook in Richard II's court contained recipes for Spynoches.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Don't Cling To Impossible Marriage!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I fight all the time. I have begged him to see a marriage counselor with me, but he refuses saying he doesn't need anybody to tell him how to run his life. We have three kiddies or I would have left him long ago.

I have spoken to my pastor, a marriage counselor, a lawyer, my family doctor, and I even went to a psychiatrist, thinking maybe it was MY fault. They all told me they couldn't help me unless my husband came in. And if he refuses to come in, I should leave him.

I would like your opinion, and the opinion of some of your readers who may have had the same experience. Is it better to raise children in a home where there is no love, or in a home where there is no father?

NEEDS TO KNOW
DEAR NEEDS: Some misguided wives who cling to an impossible marriage "for the sake of the children" should leave for that reason. If you have really tried, and I believe you have, I can't give you any better advice than the others.

DEAR ABBY: I am a transplanted Texan, having lived most of my life in Colorado. I like Texas, and wouldn't mind spending the rest of my life here, but I work for a company with offices spread all over the country and I have no guarantee that I won't be transferred.

I met a very nice girl here and the subject of marriage came up. She said she would marry me tomorrow IF (and here is where the problem comes in) I promised her we would never move out of TEXAS.

Abby, I told her I couldn't make her that kind of promise on account of my job, and she said, yes, I could. I could refuse to leave Texas, or take a job with another company if they tried to transfer me.

I've got a lot of seniority built up with this company, and I sure wouldn't want to lose it, but I really do like this little girl and don't know what to do. What do you say?

JIMMY

DEAR JIMMY: I say keep looking. And don't stop until you find a girl who will gladly go whither thou goest.

DEAR ABBY: Is it proper for a man to show off an engagement ring to his family, friends and co-workers before presenting it to his fiancée? I thought an engagement ring was a private, almost sacred gift to be placed on a girl's finger before others viewed it.

My fiancée lives about 100 miles from here and he's coming this weekend and bringing me the engagement ring, but I have heard (from my girl friend who lives in his town) that his whole family and nearly half the town have already seen it.

How should I handle this situation: Should I refuse the ring? I am 21. He is 30, which is old enough to know better, wouldn't you say?

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Your childish reaction shows you to be more in need of "growing up" than your fiancée. And if you would even consider refusing the ring for this petty reason, I wonder if YOU are old enough to be married.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOUISE: Place a piece of raw beefsteak over your eye, then place a three-inch strip of adhesive tape over your mouth.

Close School At Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Classes were suspended at Colonel White High School today while teachers and parents tried to ease racial tensions.

The action came after student disturbances Wednesday forced dismissal of classes at mid-day.

Police herded groups of students down Wabash and Mount Vernon avenues and arrested four adults and about 15 juveniles. There were no confirmed injuries.

Disorderly conduct charges were filed against all of those arrested, except a 16-year-old boy cited for possessing a concealed weapon.

School officials said teachers would visit parents in the area, described as "good, middle class," in an effort to lessen tensions between black and white students.

Governor Maddox Given Unicycle

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox finally has a cycle he can ride backward while he faces forward—a unicycle.

The one-wheeler was presented to the governor—along with a red, white and blue cake—on his 54th birthday Tuesday.

"I'll tell you," said the delighted Maddox who shines at riding bicycles backwards, "my next term in office I'll ride this into the door."

The one-wheel, no handlebars unicycle is the sixth cycle Maddox has received since taking office three years ago, but the others were ordinary two wheelers.

"ENSLAVED" — Mrs. Erna Laker, 37, who claimed in court that she was enslaved by the hypnotic power of an "Indian" mystic, has a judgment of $89,000 coming to her in Lafayette, Calif. Mrs. Laker, shown in her home, claimed she was bilked of an automobile, money and property. The "seer" was Mrs. Maria Elliott, 38, who also calls herself Dalaya Mahra, Maria Mara, Maria Silva and Miss Starr.

TIGLONS—Princess, 500-pound lioness at Jungle Larry's Safari Island, Cedar Point, Ohio, gives the photographer a warning stare as she is photographed with her three new tig-lons, her offspring after mating with Rajah, 700-pound zoo tiger. This is the second such mating in the U.S. Normally the tiger and lion are enemies.

Sowle Says Drug Use OU's Worry

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio University President Claude R. Sowle at a briefing for news-

Czech Television Director Defects

LONDON (AP) — Jiri Pelikan, who was fired as director-general of Czechoslovak television after the Soviet invasion and was sent as counselor to the embassy in Rome, has chosen freedom in Britain, the Times of London reported Tuesday.

The newspaper said Pelikan regards himself as a temporary exile who can campaign more effectively abroad than at home for a humane form of communism.

Sowle said the university's security office will be the responsible agency for investigating illegal drug use on campus.

He outlined a university program for drug education, and prevention of drug abuse among students.

The Athens area has been the scene of reported raids by police, deputy sheriffs and state agents in recent weeks. A number of arrests have been reported.

The move of President Sowle today appeared one aimed at making the university responsible for any illegal drug activities on the campus without police intervention.

The drug education program, Sowle said, would be campus-wide and cover drug use and its implications, provide for proper counseling and medical assistance, and authoritative literature on drugs.

His prevention and control program has been worked out with the concurrence of local officials, President Sowle said.

Library Lists Films Available

The Pickaway County District Public Library has available for borrowing a group of 16mm sound films.

This collection changes each month. Films may be booked ahead for special programs of church, school or social groups by telephoning 474-2318 or coming to the library. A charge of 50 cents to cover the cost of maintenance, is made for this film service.

Here is a list of current films:

"Adelie Penguins of the Antarctic" — (Color, 20 min.) Records the life cycle of the charming black and white Adelie penguins — their nesting habits, enemies, and the rigors and beauties of their habitat.

"Alf, Bill and Fred" — (Color, 8 min.) Alf and his two animal friends find simple pleasures together but Alf inherits a fortune, leaves his friends, becomes dissolute, rejoins his friends and together they seal a form of happiness.

"American Indians Today" — (Color, 16 min.) A study of the life of American Indians as it is in the United States today, both on and off the reservation.

"Art: What Is It? Why Is It?" — (Color, 30 min.) John Canady demonstrates man's preoccupation with art and its various facets through the ages.

"Balloon Goes Up" — (Color, 5 min.) During the reign of King Louis XVI the Montgolfier brothers invented the hot air balloon. Pierre Olaf narrates an animated account of the balloon flight in which the first living creatures — a duck, a sheep and a rooster — were sent aloft, from Versailles, France.

"Biography of the Unborn" — (B&W, 16 min.) The development of the human fetus from conception to birth. Chart, animated drawings, X-rays and photomicrographs.

"Canadian Rockies" — (Color, 11 min.) Lake Louise area, Banff-Jasper Highway to Jasper National Park; Tonquin Valley; Milne Lake; moose feeding on Beaver Lake; Waterton Lakes National Park.

"Canoeing the Big Country" — (Color, 14 min.) A canoe trip through a 70 mile chain of lakes and streams in Bowron Park, British Columbia. It is a scenic region of high peaks and plateaus where herds of caribou roam.

"Carassonne" — (Color, 13 min.) A French fortress and the life lead by those sheltered within its walls.

"In Beaver Valley" — (Color, 32 min.) A good photographic study of the life of a group of birds and animals inhabiting the region of beaver pond. The beaver is pictured as the community's leading citizen, and shows his construction of a sturdy dam, his mating customs and preparation for winter.

"In the Forest" — (B&W, 5 min.) A charming story of a little boy with a new hat and horn who takes a walk in the forest and meets some interesting creatures.

"Japan's Food From Land And Sea" — (Color, 12 min.) From the yield of an ingeniously farmed mountain terrain and the endless largesse of the sea, the crowded island nation, by employing ancient methods and latest tools, almost self-sufficiently feeds its population.

"Loon's Neckline" — (Color, 11 min.) A charming Indian legend of how the loon received his distinguishing neckband.

"Magic Gifts" — (Color, 18 min.) A farmer works for a wizard and receives 3 magic gifts only to have them stolen from him.

"Magic Highway, U.S.A." — (Color, 30 min.) Begins with the footpaths and ruts of the horse and buggy days; describes the network of super highways and concludes with the artist's conception of the roads of tomorrow.

"Narcotics — Why Not?" — (Color, 14 min.) A series of extemporaneous interviews with teenagers and young adults who have taken narcotics and are now residents of the California Rehabilitation Center. Some scenes show to what ends the addicts go to obtain narcotics.

"Not With Empty Hands" — (B&W, 29½ min.) Brief vignettes depict the roles Ohio Negroes have played in the development of the State and Nation and show their contributions in the fields of education, business, medicine, the arts, athletics and as military participants and leaders.

"The Novel: What It Is, What It's About, What It Does" — (Color, 30 min.) Clifton Fadiman explains motivation, characterization, style and the establishment of mood through description.

"The Old Woman and Her Pig" — (Color, 7 min.) This film is based on the story of the old woman and her pig, which she couldn't get to jump over the stile.

"The Olympics" — (B&W, 27½ min.) A C.B.S. "The Twentieth Century" production, gives a concise history of BLEAK AND DESOLATE—American tanks snake through desolate countryside during a combat sweep in the A Shau Valley south of the Demilitarized Zone of South Vietnam.

"Ottawa: Reflection of a Nation" — (Color, 13 min.) This film visits Canada's capital city — Ottawa, Ontario, showing its government buildings, monuments, parades, traditional ceremonies and beautiful parks.

"Children in Autumn" — (Color, 11 min.) Two children work on a collection as signs of autumn. They observe changes in the animal and plant world.

"Christopher Columbus" — (B&W, 60 min.) A steam engine efforts of Columbus to reach India and his fortunate discovery of the New World.

"The Civil War" — (B&W, 14 min.) Through animated drawings this film follows important military events of the war. Portrays the strategy and settings.

"Colombia and Venezuela" — (Color, 19 min.) Basic characteristics and problems of these countries are shown. Points out the survival of Spanish feudalism.

"The Cow and the Sprite" — (Color, 11 min.) This puppet film is an adaptation of a charming old folk story that tells of the happiness of man and of what constitutes his happiness.

"Dawn of the American Revolution: A Lexington Family" — (Color, 16 min.) A review of the basic causes of conflict between the American colonies and England and some of the incidents which led to the War of Independence.

"Donuts From Homer Price" — (Color, 20 min.) The famous doughnut episode from Robert McCloskey's book of the same name admirably dramatized.

"Family Afoot in the Yukon" — (Color, 22 min.) A small family explores the primitive wilderness by hiking 300 miles through the Yukon territory. How they thrive in living off the country.

"He Acts His Age" — (B&W, 15 min.) A study of typical behavior of children from ages 1 to 15.

"Holiday Highlands" — (Color, 14 min.) The Haliburton-Madawaska lakeland in the province of Ontario is visited by a family from the United States.

"A Plain White Envelope" — (Color, 19½ min.) A story of Steve's confrontation with the problem of cheating leads to a consideration of cheating and dishonesty.

"Polynesian Culture" — (Color, 21 min.) Portrays the basic pattern of an ancient way of life still exists in the villages of American Samoa.

"The Reformation" — (B&W, 13½ min.) Explains the role of the church in medieval life. Discusses the forces leading to the Reformation and Martin Luther's quarrel with the Pope.

"Rise and Fall of Nazi Germany" — (B&W, 17 min.) Shows how Hitler led the Third Reich to domination over 15 countries starting in 1935.

"Runaway Railway" — (B&W, 60 min.) A steam engine condemned for the scrap pile is saved by the British equivalent to "Our Gang." The rascals repair the engine, become involved with 2 toughs bent on stealing the Queen Mail train. The engine repairs prove faulty, the engine goes berserk, the robbery goes awry, the rascals are heroes and heroines and of course, their beloved engine lives on forever.

"Russian Cultural Revolution" — (Color, 26 min.) This is a photographic account of the arts and culture in present-day Russia.

"Siam" — (Color, 31 min.) An account of the life and people of Siam, this film explains how the people have overcome the monsoon season, tells how rice is grown, describes the unique boxing style found only in Siam and shows an elephant at work in a teak camp.

"Spain in the New World" — Shows the origins of the many traditions which date back to colonial Mexico and are still a vital part of Mexico today.

"Three, Two, One, Zero" — (B&W, 54 min.) The history, potentials and the implications of nuclear energy.

"Vancouver Island" — (Color, 24 min.) A place of unrivalled beauty, this forested island has sophisticated pleasures aplenty and also a full range of sports — yachting in the protected fiords or on the blue Pacific, mountain camping, clam digging and many other pursuits.

"The Westward Movement - Part 1 - Settlers of the Old Northwest Territory" — (Color, 15 min.) Interesting studies of the different types of early settlers. Graphic exposition of the Northwest Ordinance.

"The Westward Movement - Part 2 - Settlement of the Mississippi Valley" — (Color, 16 min.) Colorful sequences of early settlers claiming land and establishing communities.

"Yellowstone: Our First National Park" — (Color, 15 min.) Tells the story of the geologic history of Yellowstone and explains how it became a national park.

Heavy Rain Soaks Part Of Southeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rains soaked parts of the Southeast again today while cool air bearing down on the Pacific Northwest triggered chilling showers, with snow in the mountains.

Stockmen's warnings were issued for upland areas of Idaho, Montana and northeastern Nevada.

The tropical air mass which swamped parts of Florida and Georgia with downpours Tuesday and Wednesday moved inland but continued to fling heavy rains outward from coastal Georgia to the Central Appalachians.

A 2-inch drenching hit Savannah, Ga., during the night, more than an inch fell at Fort Myers, Fla., and nearly that much washed Asheville, N.C.

Thundershowers also dampened the upper Mississippi Valley before daybreak, though rainfall amounts generally were only light to moderate.

Temperatures at dawn ranged from 33 at Houlton, Maine, to 86 at Needles, Calif.

Mexicans Open Boycott Against U.S.

NUEVO LAREDO, Mexico (AP) — Civic leaders launched today a boycott on nonessential travel by Mexicans to the United States.

The boycott, dubbed Operation Dignity, was in reply to Operation Intercept, the wide-flung U.S. screen against narcotics from Mexico which has sharply reduced the dollar tourist trade.

Meanwhile, Dr. Alfonso Quiro Cuaron, leading Mexican criminologist and narcotics authority, said Operation Intercept would have no effect on major smugglers and would only produce "a wave of anti-Americanism along the border."

Operation Dignity was put into effect here and at Juarez, across the river from El Paso, Tex., but efforts to enroll other major border cities were running into resistance. Community leaders in Tijuana, Mexicali and Nogales opposed it.

Operation Intercept involving searches of all persons and vehicles crossing the border has discouraged tourism and commercial traffic from Brownsville, Tex., to San Ysidro, Calif.

The objective of Operation Dignity, said Rafael Longoria, president of the Nuevo Laredo Chamber of Commerce, "is to create pressures on higher level officials to do something to end this humiliating situation."

4 Men All Held Without Bond In Cincy Slayings

CINCINNATI (AP) — All four men charged in the murder of four women during a $275 robbery Sept. 24 are now being held in Hamilton County jail — without bond.

John Leigh, 20, and Watterson Johnson, 22, both who were arrested in Gallup, N. M., Sunday and returned here Tuesday night, were bound to the grand jury Wednesday by Judge Thomas Nurre of the Municipal Court.

Also jailed are Raymond Kasow, 24, and Carl Ingle, 31. All four men are from the Cincinnati area and are charged with the four counts each of first degree murder. The women were shot to death in the robbery at the Cabinet - Supreme Savings & Loan Co. in suburban Delhi.

Battle Of South Central Ohio League Tigers Scheduled At Circleville Gridiron Friday

Circleville will be at home to the Greenfield McClain Tigers Friday in a South Central Ohio league game.

According to the Circleville scouts, Greenfield has good size but are not a speedy ball club. Reports from Highland County state the team is improving each week and it may be quite a tussle.

The Purple and Gold operate out of the T-formation and have a balanced attack. Quarterback Paul Howland has a good arm and Circleville will have to defend against his aerials.

Coach Williams says "We moved the ball against Hillsboro and will stick with the same type offense. We have been working on pass defense all week and should be ready for McClain."

Brent Bell, assistant coach, was pleased with the way the Tigers contained the Indians' rushing game and feels they can stop Greenfield.

Circleville's injury list consists of Mike Henderson, Mike Hamrick and Bill Fowler. Henderson probably won't play, but Hamrick and Fowler may see action. If Fowler is unable to play, Harry Owens will replace him.

The starting Tiger offense will be:

With one week of South Central Ohio League action completed, Circleville, Wilmington and Washington C. H. are tied for the lead with 1-0 slates.

2 Minnesota Twins Used To Playoffs

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The American League championship series is new, but playoffs are old stuff for two Minnesota Twins.

Catcher John Roseboro and reliever Ron Perranoski actually will be appearing in their second intraleague playoff series starting Saturday against the East Division champion Baltimore Orioles.

The best-of-5 series, to determine the AL's World Series entry, starts in Baltimore and moves to Minnesota Monday.

Roseboro and Perranoski were members of the 1962 Los Angeles Dodgers, who tied San Francisco for the National League pennant and then lost in a three-game playoff.

The Dodgers traded Perranoski, Roseboro and Bob Miller to the Twins before the 1968 season for shortstop Zoilo Versalles and pitcher Jim Grant.

"There's not much difference in this playoff," said Roseboro, "except we tied with the Giants in 1962 for the title and we are in a division setup now. Then we weren't guaranteed anything for playing in it."

"We have won $5,000 by just playing in it this year, there will be more if we get into the series."

Perranoski said, "they're just about the same. But if you lose you're out in the cold. The $5,000 makes it a little better."

Roseboro said there won't be that much added pressure on him.

Lenoir Rhyne Now Holds 5th Place In AP Grid Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a 19th ranking for Lenoir Rhyne. Then it was 45-0. Now it's No. 5 in The Associated Press small college football poll.

Lenoir Rhyne trounced Presbyterian 45-0 last Saturday and vaulted from 19th to fifth place in the weekly poll released Wednesday.

The top three teams held their position, but there was a major shake-up in the lower rankings.

No. 1 North Dakota State received seven of 14 first-place votes and 228 points after drubbing the University of Nebraska-Omaha 41-7 for its third victory of the season, 13th straight and 51st in its last 55 games.

Second is Indiana, Pa. State with 167 points, followed by Grambling with 110.

In other changes in the Top Ten, Northern Arizona University fell from fourth to eighth after being whipped 52-7 by Montana and Arkansas State fell from fifth to 16th after being beaten 14-0 by The Citadel, a major college team.

Texas A&M moved up to fourth, and rounding out the Top Ten are Alcorn A&M, No. 6; Weber State; Northern Arizona University and Montana and Northwest Louisiana, tied for ninth.

The second 10 are Sacramento State and Delaware, tied for 11th; Florida A&M; Northern Michigan; Morehead State; Arkansas State, Troy, Ala., State; New Mexico Highlands and Akron, tied for 18th, and Wilkes.

The top 20, with first place votes in parentheses. Points awarded for first 15 picks on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-etc.:

1. No. Dak. State (7)	228
2. Indiana (Pa.) St. (1)	167

Sam Wyche A Starter For Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sam Wyche, pressed into action late Sunday when Greg Cook was injured, looks like the probable starting quarterback for the Cincinnati Bengals when they play San Diego Saturday night.

Cook, the American Football League's leading passer, remained a question mark today for the game although Coach Paul Brown said that "Right now, for this game, I'd say he's the backup quarterback."

"Even if he does play, he'll be handicapped," Brown said. "He'll miss a lot this week."

Cook has not thrown during practice since injuring his arm Sunday when the Bengals pulled off their second straight major upset—a 24-19 decision over Kansas City. He led Cincinnati past the Chargers two weeks ago 34-20.

"It feels a lot better," Cook commented Wednesday. "It's still sore."

Brown said that the Bengals will not know until Friday whether Cook will be able to play although he will travel with the team.

Cook will not throw until Dr. George Ballou gives his approval.

Wyche tossed an 80-yard scoring pass to Bob Trumpy after going into the game Sunday. He had two passes intercepted.

Stubborn Cardinals Face Phillies

By DICK COUCH

The war has been lost but the battle goes on for St. Louis' stubborn Cardinals.

The deposed 1968 National League champions kept alive their hopes for a share of third place in the East Division Wednesday night by nipping Philadelphia 6-5 on rookie Ted Simmons' run-scoring triple in the ninth inning.

St. Louis, an early casualty in the division title race following two consecutive pennants, trails the third place Pittsburgh Pirates by one game in the league's last undecided contest going into tonight's season finale against the Phillies.

The Pirates stayed in front with a 5-4 nod over Montreal, rookie Al Oliver delivering the winning run with a ninth inning single. They take on the expansion Expos tonight in their season windup.

Elsewhere, left-hander Claude Osteen posted his 20th victory as Los Angeles topped Houston 5-2 under the lights after New York's East Division kings shaded the Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 12 innings and San Diego rocked San Francisco 9-4 in day games. Atlanta, the West Division champion, was idle.

Joe Torre drew a walk with two out in the ninth at St. Louis and Simmons followed with the tie-breaking triple, giving the Cardinals their fourth victory in the last five starts. Joe Hague, another St. Louis rookie, homered to cap a five-run second inning burst but the Phillies bounced back to tie it, with Richie Allen knocking in three runs.

Roberto Clemente beat out an infield hit to open the ninth at Pittsburgh, took third on Gary Sutherland's throwing error and scored the winning run on Oliver's hit. Coco Laboy smacked a three-run double for the Expos, who committed six errors in all.

Tonight, St. Louis sends Bob Gibson after his 20th victory against the Phillies' Grant Jackson. Bob Moose or Lou Marone will pitch for Pittsburgh against the Expos' Mike Wegener.

Osteen, who had failed in four previous bids to nail his 20th victory, scattered eight Houston hits as the Dodgers beat 20-game winner Larry Dierker. Jim Lefebvre delivered four Los Angeles runs with a single and a double.

The Mets, who take on the Braves at Atlanta Saturday in the opener of their best-of-5 pennant play, nipped the Cubs on a run-scoring pinch single by Art Shamsky in the 12th. It was New York's 100th victory of the season.

Nate Colbert knocked in five runs with a triple and his 24th homer, leading the Padres past San Francisco before 2,184 fans — smallest turnout in Candlestick Park history.

Greenfield, Hillsboro and Miami Trace have all lost one game. The deciding game in the league title chase could well be played at Washington's Gardner Park Stadium Friday when the Wilmington Hurricanes meet the Blue Lions of Washington C. H.

Wilmington is favored to wrest the football crown from Washington, the defending champion.

Hillsboro is at Miami Trace Saturday. The schedule this year tends to favor the youthful Circleville team. Opening against Hillsboro last week and playing Greenfield Friday, they travel to Miami Trace next week.

The two league favorites, Washington and Wilmington, are last on the loop after the Red and Black. CHS coaches are hoping their sophomore and junior laden squad will gain confidence and seasoning.

Senators End Year 10 Games Over .500

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer

It was indeed a whole new ballgame for the Washington Senators, just like they said it would be.

That's what the Senators were predicting last winter when they lured the great Ted Williams out of retirement to take on one of the most difficult jobs in baseball—managing the sad sack Senators.

Immediately, Washington took new life and color and the rallying cry became, "it's a whole new ballgame," in 1969.

But could even Williams, a former 400 hitter, but never a manager, make it come true with a team that finished with a 65-96 record in 1968 and had not reached .500 since 1953?

The Senators completed the answer Wednesday night when they nudged the Boston Red Sox 3-2 in their season finale, and finished with 86 victories, 10 games over .500.

The stunning turnaround didn't win them any titles, but the Senators must be satisfied with their fourth-place finish, one game behind Boston and four behind Detroit in the East Division.

One of the few disappointments came when Frank Howard went homerless in the finale and failed in a last ditch bid to catch Harmon Killebrew for the home run title.

Killebrew bashed his 49th homer in the afternoon, enough to all but assure him of at least a share of his sixth title but not enough to keep the Minnesota Twins from dropping a 4-3 decision to the Chicago White Sox.

In other games, Seattle edged Oakland 4-3, Baltimore broke a five-game losing spin with a season ending 2-1 victory over Detroit in 10 innings before heading for the playoffs against the Twins; the New York Yankees stopped Cleveland 4-3 and Kansas City halted California 6-0 in a five inning, rain-shortened game.

Mike Epstein's three-run homer and Joe Coleman's two-hit pitching—including Carl Yastrzemski's 40th homer—gave Washington's new ballgame a happy ending. Epstein, with 30 homers after a 13 homer, .234 batting average in 1968, was one of Williams' many reclamation projects.

Howard, who grounded out twice, struck out and walked as a lead off hitter, finished with 48 homers, his career high.

Killebrew, who still has one game to play, belted his homer with a man on in the first inning. But the Sox came on and won it in the fifth inning against Dave Boswell, 20-12, when Bob Christian doubled in two runs for a 4-2 lead.

Reggie Jackson, with 47 homers and one game left, the only other man with a chance to catch Killebrew, also failed to connect in Oakland's loss. Teammate Sal Bando stroked two homers, one that tied the game in the ninth, but the Pilots won in the last of the ninth on Tommie Harper's two out single with the bases loaded.

Baltimore won in the 10th on Mark Belanger's tie-breaking single with none out, ending Mickey Lolich's bid for 20 victories and giving Jim Palmer a 16-4 record, the top percentage pitcher for a season in Orioles' history at .800.

The Orioles finished 19 games ahead of Detroit with their 109th victory, and finally reached the million mark in attendance in their final home game with 1,000,811, lowest for a first place team since World War II.

Louis Tiant lost his 20th game on his own two-run throwing error as the Yankees scored four times in the sixth inning.

Ed Kirkpatrick continued his hot hitting by singling in two runs and Jerry Adair doubled in three more behind Bill Botler's three-hitter as Kansas City beat the Angels.

Top Prep Football Game To Be Played In Warren

By HAL PARIS

Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One of the top schoolboy football games of the week pops up Friday night when cross-town rivals Warren Harding and Warren Western Reserve clash at Mollenkopf Stadium.

Western Reserve, ranked fourth with four straight shut-outs, could climb in the weekly ratings with a victory over a tough Harding team that has a deceiving 1-3 record.

A 17-yard field goal with 2:10 to play by Jim Steiner gave Steubenville a 17-15 decision over the Panthers last week. Harding has outscored its opposition 50-42 but has only one victory.

Reserve toppled the Panthers 14-6 in last year's first encounter with Harding. The Raiders' defense was stingy again last Saturday in a 34-0 triumph over Austintown Fitch, allowing only 38 yards rushing.

Scholastic sidelights — Akron Garfield, 3-0, won its 22nd in 23 starts by making Akron Central its third straight shutout victim, 54-0. Garfield, led by quarterback Bob Dudra, rolled up 517 yards.

Sandusky, ranked No. 6, whipped Marion Harding 18-6 before hind the running of Elmer Lipert, who gained 167 yards, including a 65-yard touchdown scamper, in 25 carries.

Jeff Rice of St. Clairsville scored four TDs as his team bounced Winterville from the ranks of the unbeaten, 38-14.

Don Jesionek, Marion Catholic's senior back, racked up 244 yards leading the Irish to a 48-2 triumph over Cardington. He also scored four touchdowns, one on an 81-yard kickoff return. Marion's fullback, Jim Taylor, rushed for 192 yards.

The Pleasant Spartans of Marion County won their fourth straight belting Ridgedale 42-0. Sandusky St. Mary, 2-1-1, has a tie with strong Marion Catholic and a 16-14 loss to Perkins, a Double-A school, marring its record.

Paint Valley in Ross County, 4-0 without allowing a point, got 259 yards rushing from Bob Cooper last weekend.

Cary, 4-0, handed Riverdale its first setback, 24-8 and snapped a 16-game winning string in the process.

Strong Cleveland Benedictine walloped previously unbeaten Cleveland Glenview, 34-0 while 12th ranked Cleveland St. Joseph ran its victory skein to 15.

Dave Botos of Fairfield, with 80 points in four games, is the leading scorer in the Hamilton area.

Graham, winless since Nov. 3, 1967, broke the ice by beating Northeastern 6-0 in a Mad River Valley League contest.

Mount Vernon stopped Reynoldsburg 16-6 behind senior fullback Steve Durbin, who pounded out 169 yards and two touchdowns in 26 trips.

Sophomore Dave Piper, son of Denison University's veteran Coach Keith Piper, booted two extra points in Granville's 23-14 decision over Johnstown.

New Lexington, one of the top AA teams in southeastern Ohio, rolled to its fourth straight victory by romping over Crooksville 58-0. The Panthers hold a 151-6 scoring advantage over their foes.

Leaders Of Professional Sports Guard Reputation

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Leaders of four professional sports have emphasized that their security forces are at work around the clock guarding against invasion of their houses by underworld elements, either directly or through a betting scandal.

"We have no indication that kind of element has moved in," said Pete Rozelle, commissioner of pro football. "But you have to be alert to it. With the volume of betting on sports, we've all been fortunate there've been no major scandals recently."

The problem of surveillance and the manner in which pro football, pro basketball, major league baseball and golf protect themselves from the threat of scandal were major topics of discussion Wednesday at The Associated Press' managing editors convention.

That the threat is omnipresent was agreed to by a panel including Rozelle, Commissioner Walter Kennedy of the National Basketball Association, General Manager Larry McPhail of the New York Yankees, and Joe Dye, commissioner for golf's touring pros.

"I don't think any of us can pay enough attention to security," said Kennedy. "Pro football has taken the leadership and we have followed. Hopefully we are moving ahead of potential problems so they don't become actual problems."

Kennedy pointed out that the NBA now employs an outside agency to handle its security, but was moving toward an internal system which would duplicate those used by pro football and baseball. Pro football has two fulltime employees in the commissioner's office, baseball has one—and each has a network of representatives in cities where they have teams.

Dye said that while golf has "no extensive apparatus...if there is anything suspicious we do investigate it. The possibilities for chicanery are vast in golf so we are watching constantly."

Rozelle estimated that the cost of pro football's security system ran somewhere between $200,000 and $300,000 a year.

He also pointed out that direct invasion of the sport was being closely watched by both its security and consultants in Washington, D.C., who checked on the backgrounds of potential owners and officials while constantly remaining in touch with players.

Joe Kapp Named Offensive Player

NEW YORK (AP) — When people talk about the Minnesota Vikings they usually start with the phrase: "If they only had a quarterback..." Not any more.

Joe Kapp's record-tying seven touchdown passes Sunday, equalling the feats of Sid Luckman, Y.A. Tittle and Adrian Burk, moved him back in front of Gary Cuozzo, who played while Kapp rode the bench in the opener at New York.

Kapp's performance made him a sure thing for The Associated Press nomination as Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

MAKE YOUR LURES ATTRACTIVE and YOU MAY FOOL THE FISHES...

A DAB OF PAINT MAY DO IT.
• LURES PAINTED YELLOW WILL APPEAR MUCH LARGER WHEN FISH SEE IT FROM BELOW.
• RED AND WHITE COMBOS ARE GOOD TOPWATER TEASERS.
• TAKE ORDINARY FLY-ROD BUGS WITH STIFF JACKS AND MAKE THEM STICK OUT AT RIGHT ANGLES.
• EXPERIMENT A BIT WITH YOUR OWN LURES. THEY MAY BE JUST WHAT THE FISH ARE LOOKING FOR.

ADD SOME FEATHERS ON THE TAIL TO MAKE THE LURE LOOK LONGER.

New Ships, C5A Prime Targets Of Spending Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military spending critics focused their attack on the controversial C5A supercargo plane and plans for new ships as debate continued today over efforts to slice $2.2 billion from a $21.35 billion defense bill.

Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., told the House Wednesday the huge C5A suffered a new test failure of a rear beam last week and the Pentagon did not tell Congress about it.

Pike said that he learned of the test failure when he was in a Los Angeles bar while attending a test pilots' symposium.

"The main problem in this country is not something called the military-industrial complex," he said. "It's something called secrecy."

But with both men shouting to hold the floor, Armed Services Committee Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., said he had been apprised of the test failure and indicated Pike was reporting "half-truths and half-facts."

Pike, a member of Rivers' committee, asked if he didn't think the full committee should have been apprised.

"I don't know whether I do after hearing the gentleman (Pike) talk," Rivers answered.

Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., reported the third C5A off the production line was test flown Wednesday morning and performed beyond expectations.

The exchange came during opening debate on the authorization bill for the Safeguard anti-missile system, planes, tanks, ships and missiles.

Cuts proposed by spending critics include $481 million for procurement of an additional 23 C5A planes beyond the 58 already contracted.

Critics also argued that $1 billion added to the bill for ships should be cut because the Nixon administration didn't ask for it and wouldn't spend the money if

CHS Marching Band Slated At Otterbein

The Circleville High School Marching Band will be among the five bands to participate in Otterbein's High School Band Day activities Saturday.

Hosted by the Otterbein Cardinal Marching Band, other participating bands include the Cambridge High School Marching Band, the Avon Eagles Marching Band, the Westerville Marching 99, and the Reynoldsburg High School Band.

The five bands will each perform a show, commencing at 6:15 p.m., prior to the Otterbein-Denison game at 8. At half-time the bands will assemble and present a combined show commemorating the 100th year of college football. The entire program is under the supervision of Gary Tirey, band director at Otterbein College.

Family Plan Association Aided By PCCF

The Family Planning Association provides information material and education regarding family planning and birth control so that the health and integrity of the family unit can be maintained.

The goal is to make each child a wanted child. The services are available to women who are unable to obtain birth control services from a private physician, hospital, or clinic.

Patients at the clinic include women from rural areas in the county as well as Ashville, Williamsport, Stoutsville, Darby, New Holland, and Circleville.

In 1968, birth control information and supplies were provided to 79 patients. New patients numbered 64, with a total number of clinic visits being 229.

Senate Probers Of Army Graft Eye Ft. Benning, Ga.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators following a trail of alleged multimillion-dollar graft involving the operations of service-men's clubs from Germany to Vietnam have a new target—Ft. Benning, Ga.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff's investigations subcommittee scheduled testimony today from Army investigators concerning their probe into allegations of illegal activities by top-ranking sergeants running noncommissioned officers clubs on the huge southern post.

Ft. Benning's NCO clubs were brought into the inquiry Wednesday when Ribicoff said many of the sergeants allegedly involved in skimming profits from overseas clubs had managed to be transferred to the Georgia base.

Ribicoff said a small clique of sergeants—whom he said used their stripes as camouflage for raids on club funds—perfected a system of controlling their transfers from base to base.

Thus, he said, members of the group—one witness has called them criminal conspirators—were always transferred to the same base at about the same time—first from Germany to Vietnam and then to Ft. Benning.

The senators also were told Wednesday protective payoffs siphoned from money stolen from slot machines were spread over the upper echelons of the 24th Infantry division in Germany—including the office of its commanding general, Maj. Gen. William A. Cunningham III.

Another witness said Cunningham vetoed all requests for an expanded investigation into the thefts—estimated to total more than $1 million for a four year period.

Cunningham, however, denied he failed to take steps to halt any thefts.

"There was always mismanagement but I can assure you every action was taken care of properly at the time," Cunningham said in Gainesville, Fla., Wednesday.

Columbus Man Fined For OMVI

A Columbus man was brought before Judge Sterling Lamb in Municipal Court on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Ralph Porter, 52, was fined $150 and sentenced to three days in jail. His license was also restricted for five months after a 30 day suspension period.

Mary Ellen Neal, 433 S. Court St., forfeited a $29 bond for speeding 70 in a 50 mile zone.

GI's Classmates May Contribute

Classmates of PFC John E. Wright wishing to contribute money for flowers may do so by contacting Carol McCoskey, 474-7224; Kathy Iery, 474-8137; or Karen Huffman, 474-7828.

Pfc. Wright, a graduate of Circleville High School Class of 1965, was killed Tues., Sept. 23 in Vietnam action.

Ammo Workers Return To Jobs

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Production was back to normal today following the end Wednesday of a two-day wildcat strike that slowed work at the Army ammunition plant at the Ravenna Arsenal.

Officials of the company and United Steelworkers of America Local 4581 were to meet today to discuss differences between employees and the operator of the plant, Ravenna Arsenal, Inc.

The walkout came when 24 production workers left their jobs Monday afternoon in sympathy with 50 workers who were suspended Friday for five days for violating smoking regulations.

Some 200 of the company's 1,600 production and maintenance employees became involved in the unauthorized strike.

Ohio Democrats Seek Fund-Raiser

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Democratic Party is seeking a fulltime fund-raising director. Chairman Paul F. Ward of the party's finance committee, said the appointee would be concerned only with raising money.

State Chairman Eugene "Pete" O'Grady applauded the plan. "Our party's fund-raising efforts need more emphasis on a year-around basis," he said.
